Sun Is Honored by Assembly Resolution

Legislators Laud Newspaper for Splendid Record

The Sun and its publisher, Herman Silverman, were accorded a signal honor by the recent session of the California State Legislature, which passed a resolution pointing out the newspaper's outstanding service to the communities of this area.

Assemblyman Jerry Wald of the Tenth District introduced the action and authored the resolution which was given the unanimous approval of the lower house of the legislature.

Assemblyman John Knox of the Eleventh District helped in preparing the resolution and in presenting it to the assembly.

"It was a privilege to be the original author of this measure," Wald pointed out. "No papers have done more to serve their readers or to maintain a high degree of excellence than The Sun."

Wald continued, "Herman Silverman is a dedicated man—an editor who has the courage to fight for what he believes to be right and who feels that every problem faced by his community is his own personal problem to explore and expose, if necessary."

Knox affirmed the stand taken by Wald and added, "It was a privilege to help in authoring this resolution. The honor to Mr. Silverman and The Sun is certainly well deserved."

The assembly's resolution, reproduced in this issue of The Sun, points out the national and state honors won by the newspapers, including 28 awards for outstanding local news coverage.

Acalanes District To Build

Acalanes Union High School District trustees this week instructed Richard Banwell, school architect, to proceed with finalized plans on several district building projects.

These include the new gymnasium to be built at Acalanes High, plans for a proposed swimming facility at Del Valle, and smaller construction projects and remodeling work at Las Lomas and Acalanes.

In a preliminary report, architect Banwell indicated that the Acalanes gymnasium may run over the earlier $240,000 cost estimate.

Superintendent Neil M. Parsons reported that 38 new teachers have been employed so far for next year to meet continued enrollment growth and as replacement for staff resignations.

IN OTHER action this week, high school board members:

Heard from assistant superintendent of business, Ross Reagan, that this summer the county will be improving and "channelizing" Pleasant Hill Road in front of Acalanes High School.

The roadwork and realignment of turn-off areas onto Stanley Boulevard adjoining the high school will improve safety and access to the campus.

Approved a call for bid on equipment and service agreements.

Postponed discussion of next year's preliminary district budget for the second meeting of this month.

Heard a commendation by Superintendent Parsons for personnel managing the district's cafeteria and lunch program, which Parsons reported as "efficient and self-sustaining."

Assoc. Will Oppose Plan For Apts.

The Orinda Association labeled realtor Marion Pittman's request for rezoning as a "serious challenge to Orinda and to the low density character of the community."

The association held a special meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m. at the Orinda School. They considered three "vital" zoning issues:

Orinda North, G & L and Mrs. Pittman's. The first two are still under study. The association objects to the latter.

Richard Bartle, chairman of the planning commission, said that he and Eric Nielsen, president of the association, will be among those representing the community at the public hearings before the planning commission May 22, at 8 p.m.

BOTH THE G & L and Mrs. Pittman's requests for rezoning will be considered at that time.

Mrs. Pittman is attempting to rezone one acre of land next to the Masonic Auditorium on Altamira Road. Her request is to rezone the property from residential agricultural (R-A) to multiple family residential (M-R-A). The association understands that this is for apartments.

THEY OPPOSE the rezoning on three grounds, according to Bartle: 1. It is contrary to the general plan of the area in which there is one unit for every 1500 square feet of land. 2. It is not in keeping with the basic residential character of the area. 3. It could well be considered spot zoning.

In the discussion, it was brought up that the association would soon be in a position to evaluate the multiple family trend in other areas.

"We are more concerned with overall low density than we are about the building of multiples," Bartle said.

Bartle considers that what happens on the Pittman property is closely associated with

Two Counties Plunge Into Transit Fray

Two counties raised their hands to be heard in the matter of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District this week and everybody wound up trying to figure the current status of the problem.

Alameda County's plan, with its bus operations, would be able to veto attempts by BARTD to obtain federal grants under provisions of the transportation act now before Congress.

Contra Costa County entered the lists by reactivating a two-year-old special transit advisory committee which was authorized and committed to review possible transit systems beyond the proposed BARTD.

County transit consultant Harry L. Morrison Jr. asserted, "There is a strong possibility that state and federal aid may be available to help finance our study of feeder systems and supplementary transit facilities."

At the same time new figures released by BARTD show Contra Costa County's commuting population is expected to nearly double by 1975, becoming at that time even larger than the host of commuters from the San Mateo area.

Glorietta Parents To Meet Wednesday

The Glorietta Parents Club invites all parents and friends to join in a panel discussion of community standards, "Growing Up Too Fast." It will be May 16 in the all-purpose room of the school. Dessert will be served at 7:30 and the meeting will start at 8 p.m.

Speakers for the evening are the Rev. Carl Thomas of the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church; A. W. Winchester, principal of Campolindo High School; Barry Klopfer, student body president of Miramonte High School and a prominent local doctor.

They will discuss organized activities—are there too many? competitive sports on a team level, boy-girl parties, encouragement of individuality, materialism, respect for adults, and movies.

Installation of new officers will also be held at the meeting, according to Lyman Lorensen, president. New officers include: Dr. Thomas Curtis, president; Mrs. June Haring, vice-president; Mrs. Ann Thorp, recording secretary; Mrs. Joan DiRaimondo, corresponding secretary and Kenneth Nagle, treasurer.

the Orinda North property, 190 acres between Pine Grove and Charles Hill Roads.

OWNERS JACK Marchant, Les Guthrie and Don Doughty are currently working with the association to arrive at "something suitable" for the property.

A previous effort to build on the land was blocked, largely through the efforts of the association. The previous owners were represented by Bernard Muth.

The present Orinda North plan would locate multiple units on the forward slopes toward the business district and Orinda Way.

THE PINE GROVE area would contain administrative office construction with some "green belt" areas. The side toward the freeway would also provide green belt area.

Behind the slopes, the developer plans single family homes on approximately half-acre lots.

The front area would not require the heavy grading necessary for single family lots, since the multiples would cluster in three groups.

Pine Grove to Repeat Play

In response to popular demand, the Pine Grove Players' presentation of "A Summer of Rain" will be repeated for Parents Club members and friends on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the all-purpose room, Pine Grove Intermediate School.

Based on the hectic preparations of a girls' camp show for a rival group across the lake, acts range from "terror" to "honeybun," with "Old Soft Shoe," "West Side Story," "Calypso" and "Insanity" in between, among other things.

With a total cast of over 50, principals will include Laurie Love, Andrea Moe, Andrea Waldman, Marta Lindenhayn, Steve Schnugg and Cecile Waterman. Acts will be put on by Debbie Dunning, Ellen Watkins, Julietta Ohleyer, Marthe Hackett, Pam Pixley, Tim Howe, Fran Gillespie, Cindy Hamilton, Denise Meyer, Lili Kelly, Sandra Jaekle, Jacquie Wilkinson, Pam Zerkle, Liza Maggini, Wendy Thompson, Joan Gilbert and Gay Searcy.

Old Soft Shoes will be Gus Felice and Tim Howe, followed by Leslie Petersen, Carol Wagner, Helen Koshier, Eleana Johnson and Bev Taylor. West Side personalities will be enacted by Robin Roth, Gail Valpreda, Sally Skinner, Chris Hecathorn and Pam Beckett.

Song and dance people include Michele Rosenthal, Andrea Knudsen, Mike Kelly, Jill McCaffery, Connie McClure, Beth Lincoln, Chris Del Monica, Doug De Costa and Geoff Rieser.

Men in White Coats are Joe Newman and Dave Watkins—and none too soon. Sound and lights will be handled by Ricky Blake, Peter Pearson and Larry DeGrassi. Margaret Boyle, Janis Brown and Judy Bjornal will be prompters. Director is Donald Jesse of the Pine Grove staff.

Under the leadership of Chief A. P. Winsor, the fire department will give an exhibition of rescue and suppression measures.

Supervisor Mel Nielsen will lead the pledge of allegiance to the flag.

Representing Congressman John Baldwin will be Thomas W. Riley of Richmond. Principal speaker will be Raymond R. Germain, assistant to the regional director of the Post Office Department in San Francisco.

The spacious and modern new facility is part of the post office department's unique commercial leasing plan.

UNDER THIS program, investment financing is used to obtain postal quarters which remain under private ownership, pay local taxes to the community and are leased to the federal government.

Owners are Dr. W. M. Caygill, R. H. Bolman and Jack Buchter, all local residents.

The lease is for ten years, with two five-year renewal privileges. "It is likely that the post office will be with us for 20 years," said Bolman.

ORIGINALLY a substation of the Berkeley Post Office, the Orinda Post Office was located in Phair's Orinda Store. The present office was first established in 1945. It was located in the Vashell Building on Moraga Way.

Larger quarters were soon needed. In 1951 the post office was moved to the building owned by Donald Rheem at 231 Brookwood Road.

CONSTRUCTION of the new office was contracted for under the previous administration in Washington. It has been completed as part of an accelerated program of construction and modernization under President Kennedy.

It was part of a plan to stimulate the nation's economy and to assist the Postmaster General to provide the nation with the finest postal service possible, Mrs. Mallory said.

Included in the program were more than 2000 new post office buildings, calling for an expenditure of approximately $270 million during 1961.

POPULATION increases mean increased postal business, and Orinda Post Office receipts reflect the local population increase.

During its first year after establishment in the fall of 1945, Orinda's receipts were about $8000. By 1951 they had increased to $55,000. Last year's receipts totaled about $155,000.

"POPULATION growth and community needs were projected 25 years in planning the new office," Mrs. Mallory said, "but already the parking area for 30 employees and 10 government-owned mail trucks is just comfortably adequate. The scarcity of land for parking purposes makes planning for the future virtually prohibitive."

Bolman acquired the site in 1949 when it was a creek bed and the area was zoned agricultural. In 1954, with Buchter and Caygill, they acquired title to approximately six acres.

In 1957 a supermarket was constructed for Hagstrom Stores under a 20-year lease. Lucky Stores now occupy this building.

THE LEASING agreement with the post office department was acquired in 1960. There will be a long-range landscape plan for the entire six acres.

According to Bolman, the remaining buildings to be constructed will not exceed 30,000 square feet. This will allow for six or more new tenants. At least a three-to-one parking facility will be maintained.

Plans call for the preservation of the oak trees on the land.

Walter Paasch, Contra Costa County Clerk, said 4122 signatures on an initiative petition to amend the state constitution to outlaw communism have qualified. The petition must have 500,000 signatures throughout the state to put the measure on the November ballot. It is being circulated by the Californians Committee to Combat Communism. County elections officer James Olson said if the total number of signatures falls short, the petitioners will have an additional 20 days in which to seek names. The petition would place before the voters an amendment to bar recognition of the communist party, bar communists from holding office or meeting in public places. It would also require the dismissal of any public school employee who refuses to testify before any anti-American activities committee.

Mrs. Vee Strickland, coordinator, seventh annual Pageant of Arts, adds that the performing arts are but one phase of the pageant. Fine arts, music, junior art, are all part of the 10-day event. ENTRIES for the many phases of arts included in the pageant are now pouring in to pageant headquarters, according to Mrs.

Welfare Experiment

An experimental program which would put Contra Costa County's Social Service Department in step with the newest methods of handling welfare cases was proposed Tuesday. The program, which the board of supervisors promised to rule on next week, stresses intensive case work where there is a chance of rehabilitating persons on welfare. Although such casework might require more manpower and thus cost more for administration, proponents of the plan say that there is an overriding savings in the cost to the county in grants to welfare recipients. IN ADDITION, in cities where this plan has been in use, they add, persons restored through rehabilitation have become productive members of society, able to pay taxes and care for themselves. Virtually all costs of the three-year experiment will be borne by the state and federal government, if the board approves. It will require about 17 workers, although none will be hired for about six months. The new unit will divide their cases into three groups, the easy, the medium and the difficult cases. The workers handling the difficult cases will have fewer to do, perhaps 30 a month. These difficult cases will be studied intensively with all facilities available to social workers to strive for rehabilitation of the individuals or families involved. THE MIDDLE group will handle about the same caseload as presently handled in the department. This group will consist of cases needing some social work, but not intensive help. The third group will handle the "easy" cases, where welfare solutions are indisputable. This includes the aged, the disabled or helpless cases where it is cheapest merely to hand out monthly checks. At the same time, a selected number of welfare workers of the present staff will be watched closely as a control group, for comparison with the new staff members. AT THE END of the study period, a check will be made on which saved the county the most money. "It's a kind of put-up-or-shut-up deal," explained Charles Hammond, of the county administrator's office. "If there is a definite savings on grants, and people are removed from the welfare rolls, the program may well be extended to the rest of the department," he said.

DVC Symposium

Pressing educational problems today and some new directions schools are taking will be discussed with the general public under the topic "What Makes College Good?" at Symposium '62, Friday evening, May 18 at Diablo Valley College, Concord. The symposium, now in its fourth year, is sponsored by the College Faculty Association to give the public, local professionals, outside authorities, and the teachers a chance to meet and talk about common problems. Appearing as a panel of experts who will speak from their own experience and in response to issues raised by the audience will be Martin Trow, UC professor of sociology and member of the center for the study of higher education, telling of exciting new research findings about today's students and schools. Keith Merrill of the UC office of relations with schools, giving a top-level university view of some current issues and their solutions, and William Kretzmer, president of the governing board of the Contra Costa Junior College District, who will speak as a local official close to the educational firing line. The panel will be moderated by John Porterfield, Diablo Valley College social science instructor. The public is invited to take part. The symposium opens at 5:45 with a social hour, followed by dinner at 6:15 in the campus dining room. Panel presentations and round-table talk will be followed by an informal coffee get-together in the campus lounge. Total cost for the evening, including prime rib or lobster dinner, is $3. Reservations may be mailed to the Diablo Valley College Faculty Association.

Grand Jury Audit Group Makes Recommendations

Establishment of a supervisor of a central accounts receivable division of the auditor-controller's department was recommended by audit and finance committee of the County Grand Jury in its report released this week. The committee also recommended the addition of a collection deputy in the probation department and the transfer of social service department accounts receivable to central accounts receivable section. The report said that the auditor-controller, along with other county officers, had already established these methods of collecting and urged that these actions be "followed through and intensified." A FLAT statement regarding the reasons for the lease-purchase plan for financing county buildings was given with no recommendation whether for or against the plan. The report said that the "difficulty of obtaining a two-thirds majority vote of people in favor of general obligation bond issues and the fact that the county's expanding population requires added facilities have led to the use of 'Lease-Purchase' method of acquiring buildings. "In effect the taxpayer has purchased county facilities without the privilege or approving or rejecting the issuance of general obligation bonds," it concluded. OTHER recommendations of the committee included: 1. It appears advisable for the Grand Jury to continue the pattern established in past years in re-employing firms to conduct the annual audit of county offices and records on a cyclical basis, probably three years at a time, as done in the past. 2. That all financial transactions of all special districts within the county, including school districts, be included in future reviews of the audit and finance committee. Only those transactions which pass through the county auditor-controller and county treasurer's office are included at present. 3. THAT THE Association of California Hospital Districts consider asking all hospital districts in the state to reflect depreciation of their buildings as an expense in arriving at "profit and loss" statements. It was noted that one of the three quasi-public districts, using county tax funds, already displays such depreciation figures, while two do not. The firm recommended by the committee and the entire Grand Jury to perform the annual audit was Ernest and Ernest, Oakland. Clay Serrahn was chairman of the audit and finance committee. (Serving with him were R. Harder and Blevins.)

The Little Daisy Opens Branch in Lafieta Center

As of May 1 The Little Daisy Shop has purchased and is operating the women's division of Benedict's, at 971 Moraga Road, Lafayette. This is The Little Daisy's fourth shop—two in Oakland, Lakeshore and Montclair, and one in Danville.

Benedict's will continue in business at its same location in Lafieta Shopping Center, 969 Moraga Road, as a children's specialty shop—the oldest and largest in Contra Costa County. Sizes carried will be as they have been, infants, girls and boys, and pre-teens.

Benedict's will be managed by the owner, Mrs. Elizabeth Worswick, who has been in business in the Lafieta Shopping Center since its opening in 1952. Before that, Mrs. Worswick's children's business, Shoo-Time Shopping, as it was then called, was a traveling store and won national recognition.

"We want to thank all our customers who have been so loyal and enthusiastic over the nine years of our having been in the women's apparel business, and the 11 years of children's business," said Mrs. Worswick. "We feel that this step toward specialization is a very long step in the growth of Lafayette's retail community. We know that every one of our customers will find The Little Daisy Shop of Lafayette a wonderful fashion store in which to shop. Benedict's will continue to serve its friends, and with greater devotion—being able to specialize on that important segment of family needs—infants', children's and pre-teen apparel and gifts."

Moraga Memo

By JANE PUTNAM

M Is for Mudder . . .

THAT'S WHAT I always get for Mother's Day—mud. And I liked it that way when our two teenagers were small. Being an idealist-type young mother, I believed that when it came to giving, it was the thought that counted. Our living room, while no decorator's dream, was a haven for the world's thought-iest collection of gifts.

These included mud vases that wouldn't hold water and mud ash trays that wouldn't hold ashes. Because grubby hands shaped them of a mixture of imagination, mud and love, I once felt an overwhelming pity for my childless friend whose husband tossed her a thoughtless mink stole on Mother's Day.

And then there was Mark, the latecomer, now 5. At nursery school, he is busily making mother a surprise to commemorate her day. Who knows, perhaps another collage of wagon wheel noodles or an elephant with soulful eyes made out of construction paper to join the zoo already tacked up in the dining room?

Perhaps it's my first two prematurely gray hairs . . . or the fashion show I attended last week where a french poodle modeled a better wardrobe than mine. Somehow, this Mother's Day, I feel differently.

Surely it isn't that we love Mark's grubby little hands any less than we did the others.

But this year, kids, mother would like to suggest mink instead of mud.

MORAGA MOTHERS went to the theater Saturday night, which is a step in the right direction. As everyone else who has seen the Caine Mutiny Court Martial, those who attended the performance sponsored by the Moraga Parents' Club Saturday night, raved and raved.

Among the ravers were some who hadn't children in Moraga schools: Dr. J. Jacoby and daughter Judy from far-away Orinda; Mr. and Mrs. T. Lawsen and son Kent from far-away Lafayette; and Messrs. and Mmes. Roy Alber, G. Heoni, E. Field, D. Clark and J. Meter.

Those with (children, that is) included: Mr. and Mrs. A. Blackmeier; Mrs. Harold Gunn and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. W. Van Newhysen; Dr. and Mrs. Lee Nelson and guests; Mrs. D. Schild and sons; Mr. and Mrs. Emile Doublet and Linda. Also Messrs. and Mmes. Duane Anderson, Charles Wright, Don Bryant, and J. C. Hermansen.

Another May date: May 20, the Moraga Horsemen's Association, Inc. will hold its seventh annual horsemanship at the arena, 1084 Bollinger Canyon Road, Moraga. Moraga's association is a member of the American Horse Show Association, and will conduct its classes according to the AHSA rules.

There will be one AHSA medal class: Stock Saddle Seat. Refreshments will be served all day.

The winding, narrow road up Bollinger Canyon is a difficult drive—but this most picturesque horse show of them all is well worth it. Bollinger Canyon rivals its sister, Pinehurst, for scenic beauty. Publicity chairman Marcia Blumer urges spectators and contestants to attend.

Entries may be secured from and mailed to C. William Lance, show secretary, P.O. Box 12, Moraga.

MORAGA NEWCOMERS CLUB is planning a tour of the Sunset Publishing House in Palo Alto. A group of 20 women expect to leave Moraga at 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. The outing will include lunch at The Allied Arts Tearoom.

The club is a social organization, to help individuals become better acquainted in the community. Numerous activities are functioning to make this possible. Couples meet to play bridge the first and third Saturday of each month. An afternoon group meets the tenth of the month for bridge. A golf class will commence at Carroll Country Club on the sixteenth. A dinner-dance at the Concord Inn will be the twenty-sixth.

MORAGA LION Wayne Datzell, painfully burned in an explosion last week, is recovering nicely. Wayne was sand blasting at the Oakland auditorium when his tank exploded.

TRAVELERS. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Crawford returned to their home in Canyon Saturday from a three-week business-and-pleasure trip across the U.S. The Crawfords drove son Timothy's car to him at Pensacola Air Base, and flew back to Canyon. (via S.F. airport if you must be technical). Tim just completed his basic training as an air cadet, and will start flight training. Crawford did some furniture buying at the fabulous furniture mart in North Carolina.

Traveling about in a new chief's car—the Moraga Fire Department's first—is fire chief Al Baitz. He is ready for summer fires in a stunning shiny fire-engine red, red Ford. And if you don't think Moraga is growing, the chief's car is proof positive: from jeep to Galaxy.

CARROLL DRIVERS Helen and Ross Crosby entertained her mother, Lydia Anderton, recently. Mrs. Anderton has 10 children, 34-grandchildren. She winters in Riverside. Summers in Pennsylvania. Visits her children and grandchildren when her busy itinerary permits. Hey, Mothers—that's worth gunning for.

THREE GENERATIONS OF MOTHERS live at the Adin Wilson menage on Draeger Drive. There is Adin's pert, petite, pretty wife, Dorothy, who with her two sets of children (2 teenagers, 2 pre-schoolers) manages to look younger than spring-time. There is Adin's mother, Mrs. Madge Lude, beloved by the children for blocks around. And then there is Adin's grandmother, Mrs. Birdie Barnes, who insists she is not lying about her age when she says she is only 98. Her family (who don't have such sharp memories) keeps insisting she's 99.

Besides his girls (including daughters Carol and Anne) Adin devotes a lot of time to his Cessnas. He owns part interest in 8 planes and has been flying up and down the coast as a licensed pilot for the last two years. He's now accumulating hours toward his commercial license.

SIGNIFICANT SOMEHOW is the fact that Mother's Day comes at the tail end of Be Kind To Animals Week. Treat her as kindly as you did Fido. And bless us, every one.

The Rheem Brothers Build a Dream Center

Can the Rheem area support more stores?

Does the growth in population warrant the building of vast multiple units?

Is the area being overexpanded?

There has been much speculation about the building program announced Friday by the Rheem California Land Company.

IN AN EFFORT to arrive at the truth, The Sun interviewed many merchants, residents, and the developers of the area. Their widely diversified opinions are reported objectively.

Some thought that the company's forecast of a population increase in Rheem was conservative. Others thought that the boom wouldn't occur until completion of the Shepherd Canyon Freeway. At that time the planning commission estimates the projected population at 55,183.

One thing for sure: Richard S. and Donald L. Rheem, sons of the late William S. Rheem who came to California in 1900 and founded Standard Oil of California at John D. Rockefeller's request, are developing their program—full steam ahead.

Richard S. Rheem, company president, and Donald L. Rheem, chairman, plan a $1,500,000 eight acre expansion of the present center. He stated that the addition would include a new $500,000 Safeway store, a bank and about 17 stores. The focal point, according to architects, Goetz and Hansen, will be a landscaped central mall.

"To meet the housing needs of this growing population, Rheem Land is also starting immediate construction of a multiple unit apartment project on Moraga Road, south of the center. By 1966 is expected to total 600 units," the Rheems stated.

THEY WILL accelerate their single home building program to add 70 starts this year, and 125 annually thereafter. Homes will be in the $29,500 to $55,000 class.

The majority of the merchants felt that expansion of the center would increase their business by offering enlarged facilities, thus attracting more customers.

A few said that just when they were beginning to make a "go" of it, having "pioneered" the "tough" years, now competitors "will take the cream." Other quotes: "I'm just beginning to make a living, and more stores will mean duplication of items I carry." "We can almost pay our bills now."

INCLUDING KING'S Nursery, there are 13 stores in the center. This doesn't take in T. Bones, the Rheem Bowl, three gas stations, two bars, two restaurants, the golf course, three real estate offices, one show and the post office.

Total number of businesses in Moraga is 40.

According to a county survey, in 1980 there will be 1088 people per square mile. In 1960, there were 544 people per square mile. In 1940, 136 people per square mile.

In 1940, the county assessed valuation was $132 million. In 1950, it was $303 million. In 1960, it was $842 million.

ACCORDING to the company's statistics, the center draws from an area of 35,000 people.

There are approximately 850 homes in Moraga with a population of an estimated 3500.

In an exclusive interview with The Sun, Richard Rheem said that the expanded center would fill in the voids, not duplicate stores already established.

"We want to develop a district of which we can be proud," he said. There is no other area in the county, and few in the entire Bay Area, where one developer and builder controls the commercial and residential (multiple as well as single dwelling) of a community, Rheem stated.

HE POINTED out that this made possible architectural continuity and better planning.

Richard Rheem is a former Orindan now living in San Francisco. Donald Rheem has lived in Moraga 27 years. Until recently, he lived on the estate on Moraga Road now owned by the Christian Brothers.

A widower, he currently lives in one of his plush Rheem apartments with Harvey, the house-

ARCHITECT'S RENDERING of shoppers' views of the landscaped mall that will be the central feature of the $1,500,000 Rheem Valley Shopping Center expansion. Immediate construction is planned by Rheem California Land Company. A bank and modern shops and stores, including a $500,000 Safeway store, will be included in the new eight-acre area.

boy who has been with him since he first came to Moraga. During Rheem's tenancy, the estate was opened to the public for school, church and civic affairs.

IN 1935 Mr. and Mrs. Donald Rheem acquired 16 acres in Moraga. The potential of the area as an ideal residential area became so obvious that in 1937, he began acquiring additional parcels touching on his private estate. Today the Rheem area encompasses about 1500 acres.

Describing the original Rheem Center project in 1954, the San Francisco Examiner summed up Rheem's philosophy as a developer with the following: "Rheem admits he is building a modern shopping center in an area where there are no residences in the immediate vicinity. But he pioneered the same thing at Orinda Crossroads and as he says: 'Events proved that a good shopping center, built better than any other, will bring the people to it.'"

Shortly before Pearl Harbor in 1941, Donald Rheem opened the Orinda Theater. There were dire predictions then, too.

HE BUILT the building which houses the American Trust Bank, inclusive of other stores to the former Orinda Post Office. These he still owns.

The Sprouse-Reitz building and the pet shop building were also constructed by Rheem, however, he sold them.

When he could no longer expand to his liking at the crossroads, he turned his interest to Moraga and decided to "build a town here." There are those who say he wanted to build it as a living memorial.

He built the road from Glorietta to St. Mary's and later deeded them to the county. He had to put in all utilities from Hall Drive to Davenport, which bordered his estate. Roads and sanitary facilities had to be extended.

Unlike his more limited holdings at Orinda, Rheem was able to have control and plan an entire area.

LIKE HIS crossroads venture, one of the prerequisites of the center, which opened for business in October, 1954, was a theater. Rheem wanted to make it the finest in Northern California, and he spent three quarters of a million dollars to do it.

When the center first opened, it was called "Moraga Center" with a sign to that effect. There was objection to the name, as many felt that "old" Moraga would become confused with the center. Development of that area is planned for a future date. "Rheem" Center was the logical alternative.

Although Rheem is a residential district and not a bona-fide town, newcomers are confused as to the postmark "Rheem" at the sub-station in the center. The original post office was established in "old" Moraga, inconveniently away from the center.

As the post office regulations would not allow two stations for Moraga (the population didn't warrant it) the only way a sub-station could be established was to call it by a different name. So the Rheem Post Office opened in 1958.

The government pays a "token" rent for it.

DONALD RHEEM is a shy and modest man who prefers to keep out of the limelight. The Sun learned from another source that he had donated the land to the Rheem Fire Department,

Not everyone shares their enthusiasm for their new venture, but the Rheems are builders with a facility of making their dreams come true.

Crocker-Anglo Bank Slated for Rheem Center

Crocker-Anglo National Bank is in the process of purchasing property in Rheem on which to establish its first office in that community and its fourth banking unit in Contra Costa County. It was announced by Paul E. Hoover, chairman of the board and chief executive officer.

THE NEW Crocker-Anglo office will be located on a 7000 square foot site in the Rheem Shopping Center. Ample parking facilities will be available for banking customers in the Rheem Valley Center parking lot.

In announcing the purchase, Hoover said that economic studies indicate that the Rheem area will enjoy a spectacular population growth in the next five years, creating a need for additional banking facilities. He said that the new Crocker-Anglo office will be ideally located to serve the banking needs of that area.

PLANS FOR the Rheem office are being drawn now, Hoover said. The office, which will occupy 5500 square feet of floor area, including a mezzanine, is scheduled to open for business in the latter part of this year. Names of officers for the Crocker-Anglo unit and plans for its opening will be announced later.

Crocker-Anglo currently serves Contra Costa County from offices in Concord, Pittsburg and Walnut Creek. California's oldest national bank, Crocker-Anglo now operates 116 offices in 72 California communities extending from Yreka in the north to Santa Barbara in the south.

Miramonte Mirror

Vacation Draws Near-- The Days Grow Busier

By ANN LINCOLN AND KITTY MIKA

As the end of school, graduation, and summer vacation get nearer, the weekends get busier and busier. With warmer weather, poolhopping and water-skiing are now replacing snow skiing.

The very successful Miramonte jamboree entertained many students and parents last Friday night in the gym. Before the event many teachers were treated to dinners at students' homes. The Bedays hosted Mr. Brooks, his wife, and, according to Carol Troy, their "darling little baby," Mrs. Powell and her husband, and Miss Wickers, along with Richard, Carol, Carolyn Coburn, and Steve Williams.

At the jamboree some Russian dancers, namely Bill Cooper, Scott Huntley, Gary McCosker, Ron Macerari, Bill Hamilton, Phil Hicks, and Peter Boyle drew raves from the audience with their act.

Soph girls Karen Nattress, Chris Campbell, Beth Shepard, Gayle Zaker, Crissy Voll, Carol Meyer, and Sharon Huebschwerlen put on a sailor act. Also keeping with the waterfront theme Judy Hopkins, Carol Gilmore, Katrina Holland, Jeanette Miller, and Nancy Henry did a pantomime to "By the Sea."

Little devils Sharon Nielson, Linnet Trefts, Pat Kelly, Linda Sears, Mary Baker, Pam Pearson, Jane White, Sue Nattress and Nancy Bregar danced with their pitch forks to "Too Darn Hot."

Betty Erickson also entertained the audience with a ballet dance.

Bob Temps had a party after the baseball game that night. Some of those attending were Chris Combs, George Hauer, Larry Twoer, Bob Rurks, John Valpreda and Emilio, a foreign exchange student from Argentina to Berkeley High.

At 5 a.m. new Ailanthus members were awakened to the sound of dozens of girls yelling "Shanghai!" After all were gathered they went to the Hickory Pit for breakfast. Nancy Englehard, Nancy Shover and Kay Dunbar had quite a novel breakfast--cheeseecake! The people that woke up Karen Nattress and Teri Palmquist were pretty frightened seeing two such ghostly looking girls because of the goo all over their faces.

New Bobbie members weren't quite as lucky as the Ailanthi. After breakfast at the Pancake Queen the 61 girls went up to the Cal campus where the new members such as Beth Shepard, Toni Ayres, Allison Horn and Kate Ellis had to skip rope in front of the International House, now the lawn and wax the floors of the SAE fraternity house. Afterwards they all went swimming at Carol Gilmore's.

Bonnie Brooks had a slumber party Saturday night for about 15 sophomore girls. Among them were Chris Campbell, Linda Hotchkiss, Crissy Voll, Pat Campbell, Toni Ayres, Georgia Glacy, Carol Meyer and Sue Brown.

Many people were wondering about the messed up looking cars out at the bowling alley late Saturday night. They seemed to be covered with smashed eggs, avocados, lettuce and carrots--Hmmm.

With Park Pool open some of the Miramonte teens found soaking up the sun were Chris Combs, Sue Brown, Steve Brush and Mary Bartlett.

Five Vacancies Available for European Tour

Action by KLM Royal Dutch Airlines in limiting the size of The Sun's Jubilee Holiday Trip to Europe to 35 persons leaves only five vacancies remaining on the trek scheduled to leave San Francisco's International Airport on June 14.

In addition to the 26-day trip, vacationers can also sign up for a 10-day optional extension for visits to Spain and Portugal. The 28-day tour includes Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Austria, Italy, Monaco, France and England. Another bonus of the tour is the privilege of Sun travelers to spend a full year abroad without any increase in the fare cost by making arrangements with the airline.

A final get-together for those making the tour is scheduled for 8 p.m. next Thursday at room 8 of Alcañes High School. At that time the matter of what to take on the trip and how to pack luggage will be discussed in detail.

For further information on the tour and the ticket arrangements call 284-4444.

Ready! Set! Go!

Tomorrow will be the Annual Rotary Field Day, according to Frank E. Isola, director of physical education and recreation for the Orinda Union School District. It will be at the Orinda School playground from 10 a.m. until 1:30 p.m.

On the second Saturday in May, for the past 11 years, the Rotary Club of Orinda has sponsored a field day.

The purpose is to provide an opportunity for all boys and girls in grades four through eight, regardless of ability, to participate in a variety of activities. These events involve luck, skill and fun, and allow each boy and girl an equal chance to win. Above all, it provides a chance for the children to thoroughly enjoy themselves with large groups of students of their own grade level.

The winners of the first three places in each of the final events will receive beautiful medals gold, first; silver, second; bronze, third. The medals will be presented to the winning students, at their respective schools, on Monday.

IN ADDITION to the individual awards there will be awards presented to the class making the most points, based on the total number of medals won by students in the class (gold, five points; silver, three points; bronze, one point--relay winners' points will not be counted toward this award).

There is a grand winner award for one boy and one girl (this award is a perpetual plaque presented to the winner for his classroom). There are trophies for class relays for the sixth, seventh and eighth grade girls and boys.

The high point winners, one

Waldie Addresses Rotary Meeting

Assemblyman Jerome Waldie and Ed Kanitz, manager of the Better Business Bureau, were speakers at the weekly Rotary meeting Wednesday noon at Mike Lynns.

Waldie gave the background of how the people in the southern part of the state are trying to reallocate the state senate membership. They want to base it on population, rather than on a county basis as it is now, Waldie said.

This plan was defeated in legislature. It would call for three additional senators in Los Angeles County.

Waldie said that an initiative is drawn up in an attempt to qualify the bill for admission to the ballot in November.

Kanitz ran a film on shady business practices that the bureau tries to eliminate for the benefit of the public.

Joe Longacre and Dan Dierkes were program chairmen.

Very Warm for May . . .

to chortling children, self-conscious girls in new bathing suits & teen-age boys who spend more time combing their hair than cooling themselves off.

TOMATOES are cheaper, strawberries are plentiful & fairly priced, but it's not the season for oranges. One Mother sent a child to Phair's to shop & when the groceries were brought home, Mom noted a charge of $1.33 for five (5) oranges. . . I didn't take much to figure out that's twenty-six cents per piece for luscious fruit—so back she took 'em . . . & this is California Land of the Orange trees? For Bon Voyage baskets, yes! For schoolboy's lunchbag, NO!

THE HARDWARE store has been deluged w/Do-It-Yourselfers & Moraga Valley Nursery reported a record in w/d gardening gals practically cleaning the place out of flats of flowers. (Our pvt. survey revealed that $ out of 10 women garden in their pajamas.)

THROUGH My Sun Glasses: Dave Outsider sporting white walking shorts, plaid-belted, & headed home w/George Chapple from a baseball practice. . . Sun-kissed girls & boys strolling the roadways w/mitts & gloves or towels in hand. . . The Country Club greens polkadotted w/players. . . Adele DuPuis so very neat-o in white shorts, looking fresh as a daisy after a set of tennis at Sleepy Hollow's Courts. . .

Up Overhill Road way, the Wayne Miller's daughter Dana riding her horse Caroline, its pretty young colt following behind. . . A champagne brunch underway at the Sam Houston's on Scenic Drive to celebrate dgtr. Mary Theresa's First Communion.

ONE OF THOSE Sultry Days & people do get excited—like one friend who put her purse atop her car, climbed in & took it w/purse recovered by a schoolboy along the road a few days later. . . Another lady pulling out from a Xroads parking spot w/a big cake box still sitting on top of her low-slung model.

Then there was Dick McInyre's AAA truck to the rescue as some teen driver climbed his car right up the white steel barrier in front of the old P.O. . . Sylvia Cox getting starusted (w/sequins in the hair) by the Pink Door's Jimmy Barnes—the better to attend the Black & White Ball which was a stand-out success again, despite the drizzle.

Out Carroll Ranch way, Patie Music's Carl Schwedhelm's students practicing their musical etudes in the clubhouse w/Maestro Mel Bandal. . . The music shop is closed, the deal for a spot at the Xroads didn't come off, but it won't be long before Carl & Mel open a complete Music School. Very needed.

IF YOU ASK FOR JIM at Orinda Motor's Gas Station, you're liable to get any one of the four Jims who are station attendants. . . In fact, all the gas servers are Jims except Eddie & there's Only One Eddie. . . Back in the garage of course, is the smiling Bunk & owner Jim Hendrickson who comes to the office cubicle every day through noon. He looked wonderful & tanned when we stopped to see him the other day. His description of the NEW Richfield station is a glowing one, "a custom job," & certainly a better fate than some of the box-like sterile jobs put up by other gas companies.

All the Things You Are . . .

ORDER OF THE DAY: Be sure to catch the Dramateur's prod. of Caine Mutiny Court-Martial. Harry Rasmussen as the salty Cmdr. Queeg is so credible, so convincing, that he IS Cmdr. Queeg. (Off stage he's really a very sweet guy.) Log yourself in at the Lafayette Town Hall one of these wknd. nights. You can call the theatre direct—or try Tish Winkworth, CL 4-5517.

C'EST LA VIE: Jean-Michel Sicre, AFser from France, talking to the AFsers last wk., contrasted our life USA to that of the Frenchman. Viva La Difference, says he. There is none of this community-center Togetherness kind of thing.

His family aren't acquainted w/his friends & vice-versa. . . Families vacation individually & one's life centers around a small circle of friends. The chief sport of France is Girl Watching. A bunch of boys stand on a corner, whistle at a pretty girl & then spend the day following her around the town. Very good exercise, says Jean, & much more interesting than running around the track as we do here for legwork!

THE WAITING GAME is being played by Bonnie Winters, Ken Wagner & Steve Cantrill who'll be sent to foreign shores on the AFs-program. By June 3, the day of the AFs Tea to be held at the Philip Bush home, they hope to have news of their destinations. Lid Miles hopes it leaks out here from the East by then for the suspense for these young people is terrible!

BETWEEN three Open Houses in a row last week, launching the summer baseball program (which is over & done w/about 18 days after summer starts) & the Spring Music Festival, do you wonder what a normal meal & relaxing dinner feels like? At any rate, leave it to Open House during Public Schools Week last, to turn up the following gems:

IN THE carefully-penciled print of a First Grader, the Cliff Benjamin's boy Jim has a classic comp right smack in front corridor. "We took a trip to Fort Bragg. It took us a long time to get there in our car. We went to a Winery. My mother and father changed from Gallo to Italian Swiss Colony. . ."

The "What I Want To Be When I Grow Up" series in Edith Andre's room are always very revealing & significant of our times that most of the children are mainly concerned with security, money & material things like 5-bedroom houses w/swimming pool, patio, etcetera. Very nice reading was the one by the Frank Newman's son Ralph.

He hoped to invent a new kind of ski jump or chair lift, also a faster way of processing Swiss Cheese (& maybe leave out the holes, fella?) & last but not least, he hoped to invent a chocolate that wouldn't melt. Now THERE'S a smart boy! Think of all the catastrophes avoided if there was a non-melting chocolate. This boy is already a Thinking Man!

The three-line pieces of Hokku, Japanese poetry, were excellent, most enjoyable to read. . . & the California missions, fashioned of plaster, clay, popsicle sticks, plastic greenery, etc. were absolute masterpieces in Mrs. Andre's room.

UNUSUAL EXHIBIT at Orinda Library is the Icelandic Exhibit by Hilda (Mrs. Lyman) Lorensen of Broadview Terrace. . . paintings, choice artifacts incl. a whalebone, books and bric-a-brac on display through the month. . . From a SF paper, we learn that Herb del Monica of Orinda, foremost California millinery designer, is the man w/the ideas behind those stunning Sonni-labeled hats. Real choice chapeaux.

MY PERSONAL Regrets & apologies to the Glorietta Parents' Club for having to bow out of next Wed.'s panel discussion "Community Standards—Factors Associated with Growing Up Too Fast." This is a very interesting subject, dear to my heart. But the date conflicts now w/my daughter's rescheduled Confirmation, a subject even dearer to my heart. It sounds like a very stimulating evening so plan to attend at 7:30 in Glorietta's All-Purpose Room.

I REMEMBER MAMAS . . . like Lila Mika who was sooo terrific & the surprise of the Miramonte Jamboree Show w/her singing of that Flower Drum Song, "I Enjoy Being a Girl" w/her like Leslie Corsi who's switched from the Hillside Motel Coffee shop to owner-manager of the Patio restaurant in Lafayette's La Fiesta Square. . . & looks better than most anybody in an apron! Betty Chilton, Assistant Dean of Women at UC, hospital-bedded w/mononucleosis. . . Hope she's home for Mother's Day!

Then there is the bird-watching variety—like vivacious Barbara Bedayn. We spotted her tying a red bandana to a fence over Wagner Ranch property way, the better to signal friends to the picnic lunch on the beautiful out-of-this-world sylvan spot. Even Joe Sheaff left a sheaf of work to hop over the barbed wire fence & survey the school property along w/Ann Pollacke, Lucie Hupp & other good souls of this special species.

YOUNG IN HEART: Florence Cook's luncheon guests the other day, over from the Big City, included Hank Jones, 102-year-old father of one of her friends. He made his first visit to Vegas at 100 & they had to practically draaaag Pop home!

Mom's Day Every Day!

EVERY DAY is Mother's Day in the pink house at Number 74 Scenic Drive for it's here that a former child prodigy in music is her happiest raising six children. When marriage and babies brought a halt to Mary Houston's distinguished musical career, the petite honey-blond, pink-cheeked mother put it this way, "I wouldn't trade what I'm doing now for anything else in the world."

She's Mommy with a capital M! As fetching in an organdy apron as she is in one of her pretty hats, the former Mary Spinoza of Oakland, fairly beams over her brood and waxes lyrical, up and down the coloratura's scale when talking about the life she and her husband Sam (Stan, Jr.) share together raising their sizable stepping-stone family.

PICTURING Mary Houston as a sort of Penultimate of Motherhood, The Sun sent photographer Bob Yost to catch the family at home following 8-year-old daughter Mary Theresa's First Communion at Santa Maria Church last Sunday. . . and just before a host of relatives arrived on the scene for the celebrative champagne brunch on this big occasion.

Mary Theresa, in the traditional white dress, is handing her mother a bouquet of flowers with love and kisses from the rest of the "gang" which includes Stanley, III, 9 years old, father Stan, Jr. (nicknamed Sam, he hails from the famous Houston's brother John's family) holding baby Mitchell, a brand new 6 months old.

While Mary fell victim to the flu bug this week after last Sunday's excitement, it was Jeanmarie who came to her bedside—"I said one hundred Hail Marys that you'll be up and well soon, Mother."

Reared in a musical family where she learned her first do-re-mis at her mother's knee, Mary Spinoza considered a child prodigy, was rigidly schooled as such with a thorough training in both voice and piano at Holy Names College (the site on which Kaiser Center stands today).

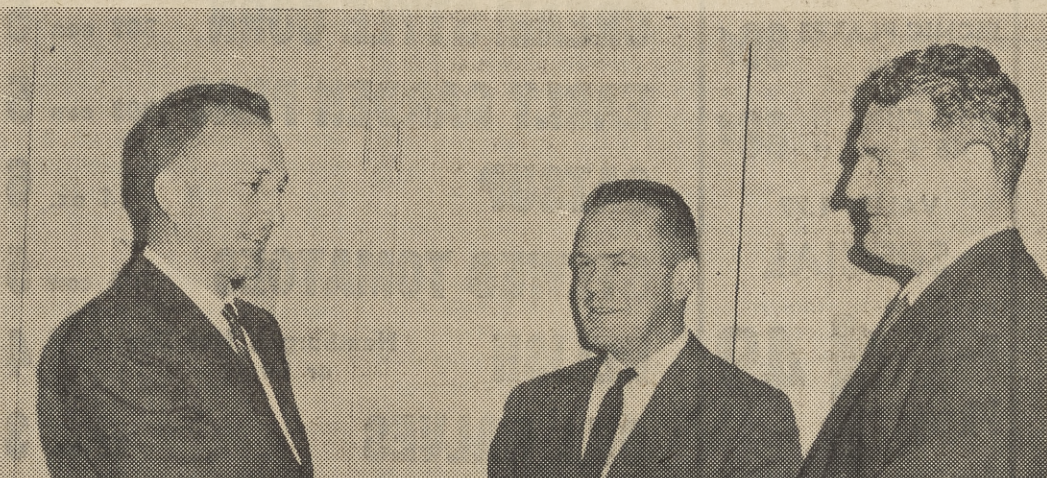

Within a short period of eight years, following graduation, her colorful musical career included directing the band at St. Mary's High, conducting the orchestra at St. Elizabeth's High and serving as director of the All-City Catholic High School Orchestra in the bay area.

WHAT'S MORE, this little musical whirlwind of a woman who can play "most instruments," also borrowed the baton to conduct the 90-piece all-male Guadalupe Symphony Orchestra in Mexico.

She squeezed so much music and talent into that brief span of time that she claims she got it all out of her system. But prior to baby Mitchell's birth, she was heard rehearsing arias with the Berkeley Workshop Opera group. "One look at that adorable new baby and I gave up the whole idea for good!" She does, however, play the organ at Santa Maria when the children's choir sings on special occasions.

SHE'S MARRIED to tall as timber, six-footer Sam Houston, a UC graduate, who runs his own Railway Supply business (a carload of Krispies would come in handy!) At his season every year, Sam ducks home a little early to coach in the summer league baseball would come in handy!) At this Stan's special element, Mary and the children all take off to cheer the team, too, and Mary says she can holler even louder than she sings and "that's something!"

Sunday being Mother's Day, this interviewer mentioned to Mary Houston that she might be afforded the treat of breakfast in bed. "You know," she said with a twinkle, "the children usually DO bring me breakfast in bed." Most any day in the pink house on Scenic Drive, many hands make light work and a happy richly-rewarded Mother rules as Queen.

NEW TRUSTEE for the Moraga School Board, Frederic A. Sawyer, left, receives some of the books pertaining to his position from board member Al Haskell, center. Rex Collings, clerk of the board, looks on. Sawyer is installed to replace Tom Falconer, who was transferred. The installation took place at Donald L. Rheem School.

White Wins Honors in Math Contest

KEN WHITE, Miramonte High School junior, won honors for his high ranking in the annual contest of the Mathematics Association of America. Ken placed 99th out of 14,000 participants who were mostly high school seniors.

He is one of four Miramonte students participating in a math contest at Diablo Valley Junior College this week. The team consists of Ken, Tom Gunn, Jeff Knudsen and Mike Sorenson. Young White is one of 22 students in the Miramonte accelerated math program for able math pupils. He hopes to follow a career in physics.

Bond Sale Okayed By School Board

A bond sale of $192,000 was authorized by the trustees of the Orinda School District at a meeting Monday night at the Orinda School. It will be used for construction of four additional classrooms at Inland Valley Intermediate School and three at Glorietta.

The bonds are the last allocated by public vote. If additional funds are needed, another bond issue will have to be passed.

THE BONDS represent $35,000 passed in 1954 and $157,000 passed in 1957.

Cost of the new construction is estimated at $170,000. A balance of $20,000 from the bond sale will be used for contingencies or for capital improvements.

The seven classrooms will be completed by September, 1963. Board policy relative to dismissing or intent not to re-employ a probationary teacher was adopted.

It requires four evaluations of the teacher by the principal during the school year. Formerly two evaluations a year were required.

SUPERINTENDENT Joseph Sheaff will meet Thursday with officials of the county and the Martinez School District to select an 8-to-10 acre school site in the Lombardy Lane sub-division to be built by the G & L Construction Company.

At an adjourned meeting Monday, trustees will consider in detail the tentative budget for next year submitted Monday by business manager James Jentges.

YMCA Program Attracts 120

More than 120 boys and girls attended the first morning program at the Lafayette Community Center on St. Mary's Road sponsored by the Mt. Diablo YMCA last Saturday morning between 9 a.m. and noon.

This program is opened to all Lafayette grade schoolers and is under the direction of John Price, YMCA general secretary, and Jack Van Overveen, president of the Lafayette Community Center.

Program assistants are Gary Adams and Miss Patricia Hartwig.

The program begins with a "happy hour" and Doctor Y Q program which includes songs, skits, quizzes and fun frolic.

At 10, outdoor hikes, kickball, volleyball and Huckleberry Finn trips start which include rope swings and treasure hunts.

Indoor activities include simple arts and crafts.

Lee Fridell, faculty member at Miramonte High School, was the first guest story teller reciting to the group "The Blue Rose."

The program will run for seven weeks through closing of school June 16.

Application to attend may be made through the Mt. Diablo YMCA, YE 4-9070.

Hats Off To...

Lil Mika, Topnotch Mom, AFS Leader . . .

A SET OF INTERNATIONAL flags, please, for Mrs. Thomas (Lil) Mika, Sr., outstanding mother of three children (she'll go through three graduations this June) and mother of AFS, so to speak. She's District representative for American Field Service, a former president of The Orinda Chapter, a member of eight years standing and feels that work with the AFS is her own small way of contributing to a peaceful and better world by promoting international friendships through the high school level.

A chemistry major who started out as pre-med, she met husband Tom when both were students at the Illinois Institute of Technology from which both graduated. The senior Thomas, Mika is Plastics Department head at Shell Development Company in Emeryville.

The couple's children are Tom, Jr. who is a recipient of a National Science Foundation Fellowship as well as a fellowship to Columbia. His major at Stanford, from where he'll graduate this June, is mineral engineering.

KITTY, A MIRAMONTE senior, who columns for The Sun with high school news and chatter, is president of Ailanthus, junior branch of CHEB, an avid ski fan and secretary of the High School's Ski Club. Peter who'll graduate in June from Inland Valley's 8th grade, is an active Boy Scout of Troop 237, a violinist with the school orchestra and a busy player during summer league baseball time.

NATIVE CHICAGOANS, Lil and Tom Mika are practically native Orindans having made their home here on Meadow Park Court for fourteen years. . . Lil's favorite hobby is gardening, reading, cooking—"especially foreign all-dish meals" like an all-Indonesian or 100% Russian dinner. Lil says not only she and her husband Tom get rocks in their boots but have them in their heads, too, for they like to spend summers and spare time in dry desert country digging for unusual stone specimens.

The Sociables

By MARIE MONAHAN

NEARLY NINE Hundred Miramonte parents, students, teachers & friends had a Big Night in the Big City last Friday without ever having to cross over the bridge.

The Cable Car came on stage at Miramonte's gym, clanged its way through a merry show & everybody agreed it was a fine evening in the Enchanted City of SanFran.

Parents, students, teaching faculty worked together as equals toward the achievement of an enjoyable show, the ice was broken & enough enthusiasm stirred up to guarantee that this will become an annual gala.

The lid was blown off on the big get-together evening last year under the reigns of Lid Miles & this year, Win Gilmore, another stalwart pro from bygone Absurdia days, pulled together even more people, especially teachers & youngsters, to carry on where Lid's success left off.

CABLE CAR Serenade. . . The concept of the show was a look at the bay city through the eyes of two servicemen, a Marine & a Sailor played by Bills Brock & Rose. . . who both sing well, incidentally. The cast incl. extrovert Bill Calhoun as a grimace of the beloved little hill-climbing car & he was almost upstaged by dgtr. Connie who played a junior passenger always getting into trouble. . .

Highschoolers Tom Easterbrook, Roger McCosker in their element. . . ditto Bill Lee, Tom Gilmore & ready recruits who raised waves of wild applause as a colorful Russian dance troupe in bright balloon pants. Shades of the Moiseyev, they were that good!

As soon as the curtain went up on the Enchanted City as seen at sunrise, the audience exploded w/a thunder of clapping. . . Rosemarie Maccario who created the stage set, used fluorescent paper to produce an ethereal effect on the skyscraper-windows of the dazzling SF skyline.

BEAUTEUS Betsy Erickson was the professional touch to the SF Ballet scene at the Opera House & happy little Lil Mika was the Big Surprise of the evening w/her contagious singing of that famous song from Flower Drum. It was quite obvious she DID enjoy being a Girl.

The show was timed to last an hour, just right to be remembered so favorably, (a re-run was requested by many!) & then dancing to Henry Gallagher's orchestra gave the hardwoods a good workout till after midnight.

GAY GROUPS of families & faculty arrived together from early supper parties too numerous to mention. But for a few, Carol & Dick Leland entertained for teachers Tutton, Morrell, Dick Davis, Larry Anderson, Miss Clapper, etc. . . & Carol said she had sixteen kids at the groaning board to boot!

Alyson & Ned deLaveaga were there w/a large party in tow. . . interesting trio was Lid Miles, Fran Newman & Stuart Henderson. . . Stu's wife Jean was right at that moment staying in Lausanne w/her cousin Helen Jones who just happens to have taken over the apartment occupied a year ago by the Frank Newman family.

Now then, Frank Newman, Dean of UC law, having been called to Geneva for an Int'l Jurist Meeting, probably dropped in to say Hello to Helen in Lausanne, since the Newman's dgtr. Julie who remained in Switzerland to school, kind of checks in w/Helen, her mother-substitute while away from home. This leaves Kirk Miles in absentia, but he was not so far away. Up at Forest Grove, Oregon where he was visiting son Tom at Pacific University.

MEANWHILE, back at the buffets of which there were a profusion, The Jack Gilberts greeted the Rom Yedidias, Pat Loughman (Bud was traveling), Claire & Chuck Craig, the Bernard Frieses, Minat & Jean Strong (she arranged the slews of parties). Teachers at the Gilbert's home incl. the Calhouns, Robert Anderson, the Graws, Mr. Dorrah, Misses Steven & Kelly.

Clint & Gail De Witt got a gang together for gourmet casseroles & ditto the Oliver Pearsons & Bill Howes who shared host duties for faculty members Mrs. Gravelle, Mrs. Armstrong, Principal Jim Lewis & wife Bernease.

MORE for potluck fare were the host Klopfers, Harmons, Sorems, Hornes, Grabs, Rustad, Jacobys, Allens, Kimbolls, Hancecks, Griffiths, Davises, Claude Mahlers, Frank Leibolds, Nisis & then some. . . so you can see that at least everybody ate pretty well before the show.

Barbara & Raffi Bedayn entertained for teachers & The Hit of the evening here was the tiny 6-wks. dgtr. Caroline of P.E. coach Mr. Brooks & his Mrs. . . Baby slept soundly while her parents enjoyed dinner w/the Vickerses, Powells & Kappas & then slept like an angel in Dad's arms while all later enjoyed the show! TOGETHERNESS! This evening was IT!

That Transit 'Gift' Will Be Expensive

It might be tempting to let Uncle Sam help us out of our rapid transit financing troubles, but such a "gift" would probably end up costing us more in the long run.

Tacit approval of the federal aid to local transit has come from directors of the Bay Area Rapid Transit District. They predict that a bond issue for rapid transit in Contra Costa, Alameda and San Francisco Counties would be approved "overwhelmingly" if "Federal partnership" were assured.

It has been predicted that a $790 million bond issue to finance the three-county system will go on the ballot in November.

THE PROBLEM is that when the Federal Government decides to go into the transit business, its monies will not be paid out in the Bay Area alone, but in many metropolitan areas of the United States.

The Bay Area may get a modest windfall of federal money, but from that moment on, each and every taxpayer to Uncle Sam will be paying money out of his pocket for rapid transit in other portions of the country.

When you get Federal money, it is not "free money."

We are experiencing mixed emotions about the Federal handout. On the one hand, we know rapid transit is needed for our area to develop properly.

An election to provide bond issue money requires a 60 per cent "yes" vote which is a big hurdle.

ON THE OTHER hand, why bring the Federal government spenders into a new field if we are able to carry the load ourselves, and at the same time avoid being stuck for rapid transit projects in a dozen places elsewhere in the U.S.?

We know that the central county was fortunate to become eligible for the $24 million federal flood control project along the Walnut Creek channel, leaving the local resident responsible to raise only a few millions.

But flood control has been an accepted field of Federal spending for years.

The question is—do we want to open up another field where the mighty Federal Government becomes the "boss man."

We should all realize that if the Federal aid to rapid transit is approved, and money is allocated to the Bay Area, this is not free money.

It will all come out of our pockets later on when similar projects in other portions of the U.S. get on the bandwagon.

Transit Made Easy?

Economy Suggestion Worthy of Comment

A recent proposal to abolish the legal department within the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District has implications for many of our public agencies.

When an economy suggestion is made for an important agency it is unusual enough to be newsworthy, and certainly worthy of editorial support unless the specific facts prove that no saving of public money is involved.

In this case, Supervisor William Blake of San Francisco suggested abolishing the legal department of the district at a directors' meeting. Blake said a contractual job would be more efficient and save the district money.

HIS SUGGESTION was referred to the executive committee.

Under the proposal, the agency would hire a legal firm for a specific job or jobs, but would not have a full-time salaried staff on hand continuously.

It will cost the district $24,172 to keep its legal staff next year, if the proposal is not adopted.

Matthew Walker, who is paid $16,500 per year as legal department head, told the directors that legal services obtained by contract would cost from $30 to $50 per hour, but he did not compare costs.

THE DISTRICT board did take action on another economy suggestion by cutting projections costs of its official publication from $5000 to $2000 per year.

The publication will be mimeographed, rather than printed by a commercial firm, as is the case at this time.

Keep It That Way

We are not happy to read about gang fights and tussles involving youths and police officers in other portions of Contra Costa County, but we are happy that such reports are rare in our area.

Such problems seem to be under control here, and let's keep it that way.

Ours is a residential, upper income area, with fewer problems than the older, more industrialized portions of the county, but our relatively good record is not explained only by this.

Parents can be credited with many activities and social gatherings which provide an outlet for the young people.

Police and sheriff's departments have officers whose main job is to counsel young people in trouble, or who are headed for trouble.

The high quality of our schools also has a lot to do with our good record.

We agree that in those areas where big juvenile problems exist, and where policemen or sheriff deputies are beaten, a "get tough" policy is the answer.

Enlightened police authority should be respected everywhere, and where it isn't, it should be enforced.

The Staff Corner Somebody Goofed

The chancellor of the University of California recently listed what he considers to be the 10 goals of education, and to my astonishment he omitted the one single goal which had been considered primary in my high school days in the early '40s.

As a youth I had been reminded repeatedly by various adults and counselors that a college education was first and last a necessary preliminary to holding down a "good job."

And the courses taken therefore should be beamed in the direction of that future occupation, they said with certainty.

BUT CHANCELLOR Dean McHenry has other ideas. The goals he listed are as follows:

1. To shift from free elective, permissive curriculum to one that places more emphasis on a common core of basic subjects.
2. To require all undergraduate students to become better acquainted with major sectors of knowledge, including non-western culture.

3. To curb over-specialization, and over-professionalism at too early a stage.

4. TO CONCENTRATE student action on fewer courses with greater intensity.

5. To provide ample opportunity to independent study and honors work.

6. To stress inter-disciplinary approaches in courses and curricula.

7. To erase impersonality by integrating teaching and living arrangements.

8. TO CLAIM the student's full time and attention.

9. To stress physical fitness for both women and men through an intensive system of intramural athletics.

10. To allocate faculty time and provide rewards for close instruction and counseling.

Now it is a loss of a million dollars due to bad textbooks.

What next? A taxpayer's suit against the school district by some member of a group which has for one of its two aims—the maintenance of the authority of the Board of Governors of the district as an administrative instrument of the local community?

How about a little ole education?

We Like It Here... Tribute to the One and Only Mom in the World!

BY MARIE MONAHAN

A MOTHER is a Constant Thing. Like tides & sunsets, birds on wing. She's always there & always will be. You can count on it!

A Mother is a Welcome Home. A clean soft pillowcase under head, a pitcher of iced punch or frosted cupcakes on the kitchen counter, a cookie jar.

A Mother is a kiss on the brow, a shoulder to cry on, an apron string to tug on, a lap to fall asleep in . . .

A MOTHER IS MANY THINGS. She can patch a paper doll or mend a broken heart.

She's a walking dictionary, a spelling bee champion, the latest edition of the encyclopedia who is expected to know Roger Maris' batting average, how to make a birdhouse & where somebody left last Sunday's fannies.

A Mother is a practical nurse. Quick with a sympathetic kiss, a soothing balm, who stands armed with band-aids for your bruises or a splint for a bird's broken wing.

She's a surgeon removing splinters, a dentist easing out a dangling tooth, the Doctor On Call when you complain of an earache at two in the morning . . . & is expected to cure a case of mumps before the Junior Prom.

A MOTHER IS AS tender as a teardrop trailing down a cheek, as strong as a tree bending with the wind.

SHE'S A SIGH, a hug, a playful squeeze. A remembered spanking & a serious talk.

She's a carpenter who can turn a couple of orange crates into a doll house, sheets & blankets into a rainy-day fort, help engineer a treehouse or build a box-kite when the first March winds blow.

A MOTHER is an artist tying a bow on a pretty package—or decorating a birthday cake.

She's a chauffeur who can pinch-hit on a paper route when you're sick, transport the guinea pigs to science class on split-second notice, or speed you safely to the doctor's when you've broken an arm.

A MOTHER IS A SONG in the morning, a lullaby in the evening. She's the hum in the kitchen, the whistle out the window, a holler to Come Home, Dinner's Ready . . . & a louder holler if you don't!

A Mother is a supply sergeant who never runs out of lemons & can fashion a lemonade stand from practically anything. She's an endless supply of pens & pencils, bird seed & goldfish food, a drawer full of clips & caps, rubber bands & haircurlers.

She's a master mechanic who can extricate a trouser leg from tangled bicycle spokes, unjam a zipper, glue a head back on the doll & fix ANYTHING with a roll of scotch tape & a bobby pin.

A MOTHER is a supersleuth Dick Tracy who can track down the missing mate to every sock, the blue sweater lost a month ago, an overdue library book. She knows when you didn't turn up for your piano lesson & where to find you in the darkened theatre when you didn't come out on time.

SHE must be an athlete or at least pretend the part—old enough to remember how to do the Charleston but not too old to learn the Twist—or play Pin The Tail On The Donkey.

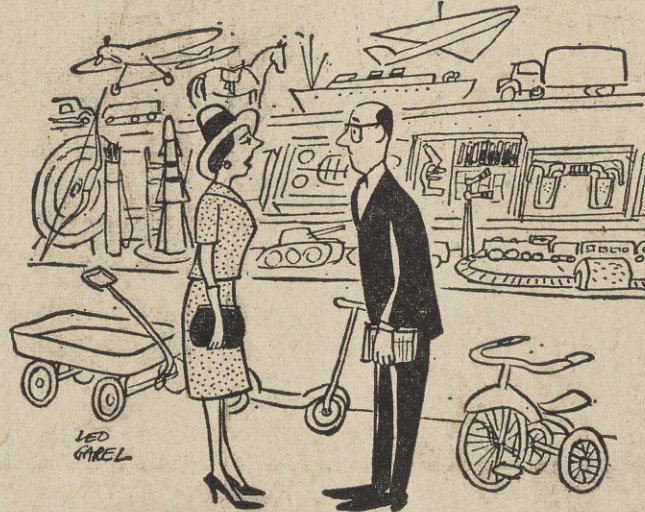

A MOTHER is a head bent over a brand new baby, a hand hemming a dress or sewing on a scout badge, a foot tapping time to a music practice.

She's the smell of perfume & wax & polish, a dinner simmering on the stove, clean clothes in the closet . . . & a house to come home to.

She's also nerves of steel, a heart of gold, the one who "knows best" but who "just doesn't understand."

She's prettiest in church with her children, or tied inside a perky apron, sweeping the porch or cutting a garden bouquet.

A MOTHER is The Good Fairy & The Bad Witch. She's the Easter Bunny, a Thanksgiving Dinner & Santa Claus, Birthday candles & Sunday's pancakes . . . & Breakfast in Bed on Mother's Day . . .

DOG ANTIDOTE

Dear Editor:

Friday's editorial on Dog Poisoning prompts me to ask why no one seems to consider the other side of the story when dogs "happen to wander into the yard."

Perhaps it is the wave of public indignation which follows a dog poisoning—obviously there is only one person indignant when he has to go out with a shovel to clean up the latest evidence of a dog which "happened" into his yard.

I cannot understand the apparent right of dogs to run the streets at will, despoiling any property but that of their owners, and incidentally, yapping at anyone walking by.

We gave up a lovely dog sometime ago because we did not have the yard adequately fenced. It's time others do the same.

This reminds me of the dog owner, almost a block away, who said that the dog is never out unless the children "happen" to leave the gate open.

The children seem to pass the gate regularly at an early hour because the animal goes up one side of our street and down the other at about 8:30 a.m., day after day.

And he is careful to stop at about every third bush.

SOURCE OF FUNDS

Dear Editor:

On April 28 you ran an editorial—A Great Report—in which you applauded the American Cancer Society, National Foundation, American Heart Association and others.

They should be congratulated for their educational activity in the community—a job that can be done effectively only through interested persons at the local level.

However, by implication to create the impression that the solution to the various diseases depends upon the financial support of these agencies. You apparently are not aware of the source of most of the funds for medical research.

When you say "The efforts to eliminate cancer statistics from the American scene are optimistic, and there is real hope that medical research will provide the answers, given the time and the funds"—you are correct—but the funds today and for some years have been coming from the federal government.

In the 1961 fiscal year for the American Cancer Society, they raised a total of $37,500,000 (their estimate) of which about $7,000,000 to $10,000,000 went to research.

From our income taxes the federal government spent, through the National Cancer Institute, $111,000,000 in 1960-61 and they have appropriated $139,100,000 for 1962-63.

Each year the National Cancer Institute spends, in one year, more money for research on cancer than the American Cancer Society has spent in all the years of their existence.

It is time the newspapers informed the public of the federal government research in this area. In 1952-53 the federal government appropriated $59,000,000 for research in this area; for 1962-63 they have appropriated $780,000,000.

The First 25 Years Are The Most Difficult

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Today I began thinking about a conversation I had yesterday with a long-time subscriber to The Sun.

He said, "You know, our family reads The Sun each week. Sometimes we think you do an excellent job; other times we disagree thoroughly with a specific editorial or the way you handle a news event. But entirely aside from your function as a newspaper, you do many, many things that other newspapers don't do."

He stopped a minute and then proceeded. "In many ways The Sun serves the community; it seems to fill a gap. What I am specifically referring to is the function The Sun performs in sponsoring events for the community. What brought this to mind is the announcement of The Sun's Candidates' Night in a couple of weeks.

Seeing them in action

"I have been attending your candidates' debates for at least 12 years and find them most interesting and worthwhile." He continued, "True, from time to time organizations or clubs have sponsored candidates' meetings. Sometimes the democrats or republicans will have their own nominees. Or an improvement club will hold a meeting, before an election. But none have done this consistently, before each election. I depend on The Sun's meetings before every primary and general election. There is no substitute for seeing and hearing these candidates on a platform, facing each other, arguing the issues."

He then added, "I brought my son to your Father-and-Son's Night several months ago. I believe you called it a 'Gun Safety Meeting.' The meeting, with speakers from the Walnut Creek Sportsmen's Club, was excellent. That night I enrolled my son in a Hunter Safety Course, which he and I definitely needed. Last year he and I—and some neighbor kids—attended The Sun's Father-and-Sons' Basketball Night at St. Mary's College. I remember my wife attended your last Publicity Workshop."

"I didn't attend," he continued, "but I remember you helped with a community dinner to honor our local Olympic stars. And didn't you sponsor or co-sponsor a swim meet last summer?"

Needed: a new hat

WELL—by this time, my head size had increased twice size. Seriously, I was most grateful for this reader's compliments and his awareness.

And this started me thinking. I picked up the calendar and thumbed back to January to see what The Sun has been doing since then. Here's the agenda of Sun-sponsored events:

Man of the Year Award (and presentation at a banquet sponsored by a community organization).

Father-and-Sons' Rifle Safety Night.

Two Sun Travel Nights.

Sun Jubilee Holiday to Europe.

Free want ads several months ago to subscribers' children to sell their stuff.

A "ride-pool clearing service", when the Greyhound strike threatened a few weeks ago. Fortunately, the strike was settled and this was not needed.

And during May . . .

Next—Candidates' Debate Night, at Acalanes High School Gym, Wednesday, May 23 at 8 p.m.

Next—Free want ads to subscribers' children and young people who are looking for summer employment. The Sun has been doing this for many years and many students have found jobs.

This is The Sun's 25th Anniversary. And we hope to do better in our next 25 years.

CONCERTED DRIVE

Dear Editor:

Many people ask: "What are community concerts?"

A community concert association is organized on a membership basis. Each member pays dues of $7 for an adult membership and $3.50 for a student membership. Membership entitles one to attend all concerts each season without additional cost.

This membership is obtainable during a one-week campaign. Everyone is invited to join. At the end of the campaign the membership is closed and no one may join for another year.

Only members may attend concerts. No single admissions are sold. This is because it is presumed that a concert presented on the basis of a single admission ticket sales always had and always will mean financial risk. The success of community concerts is assured by the fact that a membership must be secured during the campaign week.

Artists are usually selected immediately after campaign week, but for the 1962-63 season the board of directors of the Acalanes Community Concert Association already have taken holds on William Warfield, noted American negro baritone; Whittemore and Lowe, America's most popular two-piano team; and the Tucson, Arizona, Boys Chorus will visit us on their 10th nationwide tour.

The membership drive is from Monday, April 30 to Saturday, May 5. Anyone wishing to sell memberships or obtain further information, call the secretary, Mrs. Walter Gray, at YE 4-2537; or president, Phil Bancroft, Jr., at YE 4-2241.

FLORENCE DENNIS.

WHAT NEXT?

Dear Editor:

First it was the Lee Report. Then it was the John Birch Society. Then it was socialism. Then it was the C.T.A. Then it was the dissident group of teachers.

Winter Ball Set for Bow By Local Debs

Three young ladies from this side of the tunnel will be among those to make their formal debut at the Winter Ball.

Twenty-four 1962 East Bay debutantes, in all, will officially bow to society at the ball at the Claremont Hotel on December 21.

The debs and their mothers will be introduced to members of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay's Hill Branch, sponsors of the ball, at a tea late this month.

Included in the list of Winter Ball debs of '62 from this area are:

HOLLY BORDEN is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Borden, Orinda. Holly is a senior at Anna Head School. She intends to go either to the University of Arizona or to the University of Washington.

VICKI JOHNSON is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Johnson, Lafayette. Vicki attends Sarah Dix Hamlin School for Girls, San Francisco. She expects to continue her studies at the University of New Mexico.

LYNN LABOYTEAUX is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth LaBoyteaux, Orinda. She is a student at Anna Head's, and has been accepted by the University of California. She plans to attend classes on the Davis campus.

'Artist Looks at Peace' to Be Theme

Valley Art Center offers another in a series of painting classes under the direction of New York artist, Earl Pierce, who has recently exhibited at the Quay Gallery, Tiburon.

Classes are on Tuesday mornings from 9:30 to 11:30 in the banquet room of the Red Mill. They are open to beginning as well as advanced students. Painting of live models is available. Classes begin May 15.

Golden Year

A cocktail hour at the Valley Art Center, on La Fiesta Square in Lafayette began a gala evening for members of the organization recently.

Amid fine oils and modern sculpture, was this prelude to the annual dinner meeting and election of officers for the Art Center. This month began its fifteenth year of service.

Over 100 members attended. The dinner meeting was at the Lafayette home of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Farley. Following the election of officers, Peter Howard, of Walnut Creek, master of ceremonies, introduced William Wilkinson, of Orinda, incoming president.

Mrs. Harold Powell, of Lafayette, retiring president, replied to expression of appreciation of her outstanding service by thanking those who

In a brief talk she outlined accomplishments of the center during the past year. A temporary art gallery was established at 978 Hough Street, Lafayette, with a continuing series of exhibitions and classes. A grant to the Oakland College of Arts and Crafts financed a pilot study in art center directorship which is now underway. Finally the center has joined in the campaign for the establishment of a modern community center for Lafayette.

Harry X. Ford, president of the Oakland College of Arts and Crafts, was introduced.

In addition to Wilkinson, other officers and members of the board of directors for the coming year are: Mrs. Harold Powell.

AMATEUR ARTISTS at work in the left-study class sponsored by the Valley Art Center are taught by the well-known painter Peter Blos. The class meets on Thursdays in the banquet room at the Red Mill. Refreshments are served during both sessions. Those who would like to join the study of oil portrait painting may arrange to do so.

Medics' Flower Ball

Does and their damsels plan to have a ball at the ball. The Contra Costa Unit of the Woman's Auxiliary to the Alameda-Contra Costa Medical Association is finalizing plans for its eleventh annual Flower Ball. It will be tomorrow at the Gold Ballroom of the Sheraton-Palace Hotel in San Francisco, according to Mrs. W. James Eldred, ball chairman. This ever-fabulous affair is given by the "suburbanites" of the East Bay doctors' wives.

Early arrivals will be greeted by a bevy of beautiful hostesses guided by Mrs. Robert Finger and Mrs. James Embick. Serving with them will be Mrs. Milton Greengard, president; Mrs. Albert Greenberg, co-chairman of the ball, and the Mmes. Lars Peterson, Bernard Molm, John Cheredes, of Pleasant Hill, and Dave Liu, of Walnut Creek. Publicity is being handled by Charles J. Hart of Walnut Creek with Mrs. Ralph Douglas.

"Girl Friday" of the group is Mrs. William Morrow, former president. Many pre "get-togethers" have been planned on both sides of the bay, dinner at 8, and then dancing to the wee hours with Ray Hackett and his orchestra. Proceeds from the spring affair will go toward nursing scholarships. These scholarships are open to any qualified graduate of the Contra Costa high schools and junior colleges. Awarding of the scholarships is based on need, scholastic achievement and interest in the schools according to Mrs. Irving Fein, nursing scholarship chairman. Due to the successes of previous Flower Balls, the auxiliary has been able to offer at least six full scholarships each year. The girls go to the accredited school of nursing of their choice.

Nancy Lois English Weds in Walnut Creek

At a recent double ring ceremony performed under an archway decorated with flowers and ivy, Nancy Lois English became the bride of Allen Dale Jones. Officiating at the ceremony in the First Baptist Church of Walnut Creek was the pastor, the Reverend George Moore. Nancy's gown was of floor length, slipper satin. The dress was fashioned with a round neckline trimmed with embroidered applique, studded with sequins. The fitted bodice had long sleeves which came to a point at the wrist. The shoulder length, illusion veil was held by a crown studded with pearls and sequins. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered by a white orchid. Maid of honor, Roberta English, wore a taffeta dress of medium blue, fashioned like the bride's gown. Bridesmaids, Celia Brown and Deanna Bell, wore taffeta dresses of baby blue, also fashioned like the bride's. They carried cascade bouquets of white carnations trimmed with blue ribbons matching the dresses. Ronald Gaupin was best man. Ushers were Marve Swafford and Gary Dorman, brothers-in-law of the groom. Candelighters were Lynn and DeLaine Bailey of Walnut Creek. Patty Grunert of Pleasant Hill carried the bride's train. Soloist was Edward English, brother of the bride. He sang "Because," "Through the Years," and "O Perfect Love." For the reception immediately following the ceremony, the social hall of the church was decorated with white and blue bells. The bride's table was centered with a beautiful four-tier cake topped with bells. On their wedding trip to Carmel, the bride wore a wool coral suit with beige accessories. The bride is the daughter of

'Cool' Look Big at Show

Strictly for summer were the "cool" clothes shown at Christ The King Women's Club dessert-fashion Saturday afternoon by Jo-Ann's of Walnut Creek. Entertaining the guests before the show, against a colorful Gay 90's background, were the "Merry May" barbershop quartet of Lou Woyteck, Bob Stice, Fred Steid and Paul Streicher. Among the refreshing models on a warm day were: Marilyn Martin in a flame-red chanel-type Kimberley suit; Marge Dennett in an ice-blue two-piece costume; Joan Fahy wearing a smart black cotton bare-top dress with a patent hip-hugging belt. Teen-agers included Judy Hipkiss in a floral rose-print party dress and Mary Lar-scheid wearing an organza dance dress of lovely citrus colors, "just right for than senior ball." The lucky recipient of a week end at Del Monte Lodge was Mrs. Ralph Johnson

FRIDAY, MAY 11, 1962

THE SEABURY CLUB, a social group of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Walnut Creek, will have a party with a Parisian theme tonight. Looking forward to the affair are, from left to right: Mmes. Peter Ganyard, Larry Russell and Harry Gester.

Seabury Club Dance to Create Paris in Spring

Miniature Eiffel towers, carts filled with multi-colored flowers, and a sidewalk cafe setting will create an atmosphere of Paris in the spring when the Seabury Club presents its annual dance at Diablo Country Club tonight. Henry Gallagher's orchestra will provide music from 9 p.m. until 1 a.m.

The Seabury Club is a social organization of St. Paul's Episcopal Church in Walnut Creek.

It was established to give married couples the opportunity to become better acquainted with each other.

The annual spring dance is the one money-raising event sponsored by the club. Proceeds are used for necessary projects in the church.

The club provides financial assistance to the Henry Oh-laff Home for Men in San Francisco and donates food, clothing and toys for a needy family at Christmas.

Members make and serve sandwiches to the Walnut Festival parade participants.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Scarlett, presidents, are general chairmen.

Other chairmen are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Russell, decorations; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gester, reservations; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Ganyard, tickets; and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Vandeventer, publicity.

Mrs. Edwin Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McDavid, and Mr. and Mrs. David White also are helping with plans for the dance.

Tickets are available from any Seabury member or by phoning Mrs. Harry Gester, YE 4-0625.

Kronnenbergs Have Golden Anniversary

Upon the occasion of their Golden Wedding, a Walnut Creek couple recently renewed their vows. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kronenberg, 2381 Tice Valley Boulevard, marched down the aisle at St. Mary's Church, Walnut Creek, shortly before their oldest son and his wife renewed their vows upon the occasion of their Silver Wedding anniversary.

The son, Francis and his wife, flew from Peoria, Illinois for the double occasion. The Kronenbergs have three other children: Vincent Kronenberg and Mrs. Kay Kruse of Lafayette, and Mrs. Anne Kaufek, Oakland. They were present at the church rites, as well as at a champagne reception and dinner following.

The dinner at the Galleon, Alameda, was set for 50 friends and relatives.

The Kronenbergs have 10 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Two grandsons served as altar boys at the afternoon mass. They were Tom Kruse, 10 years old, and Bill Kronenberg, 11, both of Lafayette.

A granddaughter, Camille Kruse, 11, played Ave Maria at the organ. Kathy Kruse, 13, modeled her grandmother's wedding dress during the evening. It was only "a little tight" on grandmother and mother!

The Kronenbergs moved to their present address 10 years ago. Kronenberg retired at that time from an electronics company which he originated, the Safe-T-Mike Corporation.

MARY LYNN Auxiliary members are looking forward to their "Hawaii Calls" dance tomorrow night. Carrying out the Hawaiian motif are, left to right, Mmes. Michael Jason, Edwin Johnson and Peter Hinton. All are invited to attend the auxiliary's first party at the Walnut Creek Elks Club. It will benefit the Lynn Schools for Retarded. Tickets may be purchased at the door.

Alliance Hits Jackpot

There was an overflow crowd at the Mayfair Fashion Show at the Claremont Hotel's Garden Room, Berkeley, Thursday afternoon. Fifty members of the Junior Alliance of Lincoln Child Center sold 750 tickets for their first fund raising project of the year. Many tables had to be set up on the sun porch.

Among the show stoppers were the little boy models; a French poodle modeling a sun suit, ocelot coat and pajamas, all styled by Pat's Pets; and some of the prettiest, most poised, non-professional mannequins ever to show off a wardrobe for I. Magnin.

The styles from the Oakland store were exciting, although not extreme. Creations by the leading fashion houses were shown, with emphasis on the alliance's theme, "Let's Take a Sun Break." However, suits, afternoon ensembles, maternity clothes, evening dresses, lingerie and a breathtakingly beautiful bridal party were also featured.

Models from this side of the tunnel included Mrs. Gary Du Bois, Lafayette; Mrs. James Kaufman, Walnut Creek; and Mmes. Kenneth Holland, William Ingram, David Stearns and Alan McDowell, all of Orinda. A trio of young men who nearly stole the show were Donald DuBois, David Holland and Scott Ingram.

Mrs. McDowell, deeply tanned from a recent trip to Mexico, was stunning in a three-piece Norell suit. She also modeled a cotton print swimsuit with matching jacket and an orange silk which were enhanced by her coloring.

A mother-son combination that was outstanding was Mrs. DuBois in a Kilpatrick organza dress, accompanied by little Donald in a white linen suit. Mrs. DuBois was alluring in a full length, permanently pleated penguin and nylon gown; also, as matron of honor in the bridal party.

Mrs. Kenneth Holland wore a Norell pink (almost fuchsia) linen sheath. Her long white kid gloves were a style note of the season. They were held in place by elastic just below the elbow. Mrs. Holland appeared again in a print chiffon sheath dress with a matching flower poof of a hat perched atop her coif. For the finale, she was a lovely bridesmaid.

Mrs. Ingram and her little Scott made another handsome mother-son duo on the fashion runway. Mrs. Ingram wore a marchessa two-piece camel dress and Scott, a checked marchess sweater and short trousers. Scott was an adorable ring bearer in the bridal procession.

Mrs. Kaufman first appeared in a pink pure silk slack suit. Among the other outfits she modeled to perfection was a linen and tappa afternoon dress.

The beneficiary of the proceeds from the affair will go to Lincoln Home, the only residential treatment home for emotionally disturbed children in this area.

L. Johnston Is Bride of D. Adcock

At a beautiful, double-ring, formal afternoon ceremony recently, the former Linda Johnston changed her name to Mrs. Donald R. Adcock.

White gladioli, stock and palm fronds decorated the Community Church of Lafayette. Officiating was the Reverend George E. Berry.

The reception was in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Johnston, 3182 W. Withers Avenue, Lafayette.

Organ numbers were played by Mrs. Alex MacDonald.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by her sisters, Mrs. Ralph W. Burgess, matron of honor, and Mrs. Peter A. Millino.

Linda's gown was of white lace over white satin with a waltz length skirt. Her veil was held by a circlet of valley lilies. She carried a crescent bouquet of fleur d'amour and bonvardia.

Best man was Ralph Burgess. Ushers were Peter Millino and Stuart Tucker.

After graduating from Pleasant Hill High School Linda attended Diablo Valley College where she studied to be a dental assistant. She is a member of the Dental Assistants' Association.

The newlyweds are now making their home in Walnut

Taste'n Tally To Be Motif for Jr. Suburbans

Taste'n Tally was the first spring social event of the Lafayette Suburban Junior Women's Club, tomorrow. It featured favorite casseroles, salads and desserts prepared by members. Mrs. George Hohler and Mrs. Herbert Schippmann have arranged to have recipes available for guests.

Mrs. Lester Johnson, chairman of the event, announced the time was from 12:30 until 4 p.m. at the Fairview School Bridge and other games were also enjoyed.

Decorating committee, Mmes. Harold Hill, John Lambert John Fitzsimmons, Bryce Blakely, T. E. Johnson, Harold Pfiffner and Charles Lowell, made colorful and fun prizes which were presented to those with highest scores.

Mrs. Harold Pfiffner, club president, announced that all proceeds from this social affair will be contributed to the Lafayette Community Center.

The other finalists are, left to right: Chip Cunningham (LL), fifth; Larry Gruver (Ac), third; Simon; Homer Dawson (Alh), second; Bill Mecorney (Ac), fourth.

AWAITING THE GUN for one of the 19 races held last Friday afternoon at the Las Lomas High School pool are these six Foothill League finalists, the cream of the FAL swimmers. More than 200 swimmers participated in the annual meet. Las Lomas was the over-all winner.

Knights Edge Dons for FAL Swim Meet Title

Las Lomas swept to a record-breaking win in the final event of the afternoon to win the Foothill League swim meet, 94-88, over Acalanes.

The two teams were tied going into the final event with 80 points each.

The win gave Las Lomas 14 points while Acalanes settled for third place and eight points. As expected, San Ramon won the B competition. The junior Wolves had 83 points.

BOB KAMMEIJER of Miramonte and Bob Strand of Las Lomas were double winners in the varsity meet. John Savage of Miramonte took a pair of firsts in the B meet.

Strand set new league records in winning the 100-yard backstroke and the 200-yard individual medley.

The team of Chris Ostrom, Al Pomeroy, Keith Howard and Fritz Von Tegen posted the new record in the 200-yard freestyle relay which gave the Knights the meet title.

Savage also set new marks as he won the 200-yard freestyle and 100-yard individual medley. Other B marks were set by Norm Rheet of San Ramon (in the 100-yard backstroke) and Duke Gibbs of Miramonte (in the 100-yard breaststroke).

MIRAMONTE, co-leader of the FAL along with Las Lomas, finished with 40 points, far back of the first two teams.

The Matadors and Knights both have won two dual meets this season. Las Lomas is defending FAL dual champ and won the FAL relays earlier this season.

The six finalists at the FAL meet will be competing at the North Coast Section Division I meet this weekend at Antioch High School.

The trails begin Friday with the finals slated for Saturday afternoon.

Local teams from the Foothill Athletic League and the DVAL will compete against the best from the Alameda County Athletic League and the Hayward Athletic League.

From the Foothill League, Acalanes will be sending 29 swimmers while Las Lomas will be represented by 23. San Ramon is sending 20, Miramonte, 18 and Alhambra, 8.

Any of these swimmers that place in the finals, to be held Saturday, will qualify to go to Stanford for the North Coast swimming finals.

Finals for all events will start at approximately 1 p.m. Saturday.

The admission fee will be 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students.

Piedmont Clinches Foothill Track Title

Foothill League track teams closed out their season Tuesday by making up rained-out meet from April 27.

And Piedmont asserted its authority by handing Acalanes a 77½-51½ defeat in Lafayette.

It was the sixth straight dual-meet win for the Clan who also won the Foothill Relays and the FAL track and field championship.

The Clan did equally as well last year, winning all three track titles.

The Dons dropped to third place in the dual-meet competition with the loss.

Las Lomas, victor over the Dons finished second by defeating San Ramon Tuesday, 85-28.

The Knights lost only to Piedmont. The Dons finished with a 4-2 mark.

Five Still in FAL Baseball Race

Rams Post Third Straight Win in CCD Baseball

Apparently Antioch scored too many runs last Thursday because Pleasant Hill certainly shut the door Tuesday behind Al Oxy's five-hit pitching.

The Panthers scored in every inning as they trounced Pittsburg, 25-10, last week.

However, the Panthers could get but one run Tuesday at Pleasant Hill as the Rams won their third straight, 5-1.

The win gives the slow-starting Rams a 5-5 record with two games to play.

Clayton Valley moved ahead of Antioch in the CCD standings with a 4-1 win over last-place Pacifica.

CONTRA COSTA DIVISION	W	L	T	GB
Mt. Diablo	7	1	1	—
Clayton Valley	6	3	0	1½
Antioch	5	3	1	2
Pittsburg	5	4	0	2½
Pleasant Hill	5	5	0	3
College Park	3	7	0	5
Pacifica	1	9	0	7

(Does not include games played yesterday.)

In other CCD games Tuesday, league-leading Mt. Diablo romped past College Park, 8-1, and virtually assured itself of the league title.

THE WIN was the seventh in nine games for the Devils, who lead Clayton Valley on 1½ games. The two leaders finished in a dead heat last year with 10-2 records.

Pleasant Hill scored two runs in the fifth and again in the sixth to break a 1-1 tie against Antioch.

In the second inning Pete Molino of the Rams reached first after the catcher had interfered in the batting area, then stole second. He took third as Neil Reeves reached first on an error.

Mark Perin then hit a long fly to left, with Molino scoring after the catch for the first Pleasant Hill run.

Dave Clark led off the fifth with a four-bagger to give the Rams the go-ahead run.

Oxley was hit by a pitched ball, Jim Dunlap singled and Pete Caruso walked to load the bases. Morino then grounded to short, scoring Oxley, and it was 3-1.

In the sixth, Jack Baldassari walked, Bill Erickson singled and Oxley walked, loading the bases. Dunlap single scored both Baldassari and Erickson.

DUNLAP had two singles for the Rams and Erickson picked up a single and a double. Clark's home run was the fifth hit for the Pleasant Hill squad.

College Park dropped its third straight to league-leading Mt. Diablo, 8-1, and now are 3-7 for the season.

John Pardee was the only Falcon able to get a safety. The loss drops College Park into sixth place, 1½ games ahead of last-place Pacifica.

DAVE DUNNING, with coach Don Phillips of Miramonte, are shown checking times at a recent practice prior to Dunning's record-shattering performance in the Foothill Athletic League meet last Friday. Dunning's 1:56.3 in the 880 bettered his own best mark by a full second and broke the old record by more than two seconds. Dave Ogden photo.

FAL Track Championship Goes to Piedmont Again

Piedmont successfully defended its Foothill League meet title, scoring 59½ points at Alhambra High School last Friday.

Las Lomas finished second with 45 5/7 points.

Miramonte came in third with 39, Del Valle was fourth with 38, Alacalanes fifth with 31 1/5 and San Ramon sixth with 30½.

Host Alhambra, winless this year in dual meet competition, finished way back with just 3½ points.

Two meet records were broken by the FAL tracksters and another was tied.

DAVE DUNNING'S 1:56.3 clocking in the half mile was probably the highlight of the meet.

Dunning defeated favored Bill Klippert of Piedmont in the 880 and equalled this season's best time in the event for East Bay runners. Klippert had set the mark. Klippert's time of 1:57.3 also broke the old meet record.

Dunning's best time in the half mile up to Friday's meet was 1:57.6.

In the shot put, Bob Foskett of Piedmont broke Alacalanes' Dave Dornis's year-old record. Foskett heaved the shot 56-1, bettering the mark by one foot.

In the high hurdles, Paul Hein of Alacalanes tied the old meet record with a 15.6 clocking.

The only double winner in the meet was versatile Bill O'Toole of Del Valle.

The four-letter winner won the 220 in 22.6 and also placed first in the high jump with a leap of 5-10.

O'Toole also grabbed a third place in the 100 to pace his first-year school to a surprising fourth place finish.

O'Toole's 10.3 in the 100 was one-fifth of a second back of the Las Lomas sprinters Dick McCoy and Larry Gabie.

Piedmont easily won the B competition as well, rallying up 73 points.

COMPLETE RESULTS High hurdles — Hein (Ac), Christiansen (DV), Feisa (SR), Queen (Ac), Wells (P), 15.6. (Ties record set by Lenig (P) in 1959 and tied by Hein in 1961.)

880—Dunning (M), Klippert (P), Neighbor (M), Gallagher (M), Ready (DV), 1:56.3. (Record, Old record, 1:58.4, set by Hogan (P) 1959.)

100—McCoy (LL), Gabie (LL), O'Toole (DV), Gianni (LL), Dawson (P), 10.2.

440—Hogan (P), Lawyer (P), Phillips (LL), Rinne (Ac), Jeffers (P), 51.0.

The finish entitles the two DVC netmen to compete in the Northern California sectionals at Monterey this weekend.

Menlo won both titles and the tourney with 18 points. DVC was fifth with 9 points.

Dons Lose First Game; Trojans Tighten Race

As always seems to be the case, Las Lomas pulled the rug from under Alacalanes in the Foothill League last week.

The two teams always seem to come up with "best games" against each other, no matter what the sport.

If Las Lomas had been undefeated in FAL baseball, no doubt Alacalanes would have been the team to snap it.

HOWEVER, the Dons were the undefeated team this time and the Knights were quite aware of it.

A Miramonte win would have deadlocked the race. The Mats were upset by Del Valle, winner of only one game all year (and that was over Piedmont, who hasn't won a game yet).

Tuesday, all FAL teams had a break.

REGULAR action was scheduled to resume yesterday afternoon.

Miramonte was slated to meet Piedmont and Las Lomas was to visit Del Valle, while San Ramon and Alhambra met in the most important game at Martinez.

The Wolves, 4-2, could move close to that top rung with a win. However, Alhambra, defending champion, has been on the move lately and are still in the race—waiting for the leader to falter.

Next week, Alacalanes has to face Alhambra at home and then Piedmont. Las Lomas has two important games—with Miramonte at Orinda and Alhambra at home.

Miramonte and San Ramon clash at Danville Thursday in another important game.

St. Mary's Names New Ass't Coach

Leslie R. Edwards of Palma High School, Salinas, has been named freshman basketball coach and assistant to the athletic director of St. Mary's College, it was announced today by Mike Cimino, new athletic director and head basketball coach.

In addition to his athletic duties, Edwards, who is a candidate for a master of arts degree in social science from San Jose State, will also serve on the faculty as an instructor in political science.

Coaching the baseball team and directing minor sports will also be part of the duties of Edwards who, for the past year, was basketball and baseball coach at Palma High School.

He graduated with a political science major from the University of Santa Clara in 1954. From 1958-61 he taught and was assistant coach at La Salle High School, Pasadena.

Edwards will assume his new post at St. Mary's with the opening of the autumn semester in September.

Miramonte Is Tennis Victor

Miramonte opened defense of its Foothill League tennis title by whitewashing Del Valle, 7-0, last Thursday.

The Mats, winner of the crown outright last year, shared the title the two previous years.

In non-league matches to date, Miramonte is 4-2.

The Mats also won both the singles and doubles titles at the annual FAL tennis tournament last Saturday.

Gary Rose, the Mats' No. 1 man, and probably the best junior tennis player in the state, drubbed Mark Silverman of Del Valle, 6-0, 6-2, in the day's feature match.

THE COMPLETE RESULTS Singles—Rose def. Silverman, 6-0, 6-2; Saputo def. Gruell, 6-1, 1958-61 he taught and was assistant coach at La Salle High School, Pasadena.

Edwards will assume his new post at St. Mary's with the opening of the autumn semester in September.

CCD Teams Dominate Annual DVAL Track Meet

Powerful Pittsburg ran away with top honors at the annual Diablo Valley Athletic League track and field meet last Saturday at Livermore.

The meet annually pits the best trackmen from the East Bay and Contra Costa Divisions of the DVAL.

Pitt rolled up 73 1/2 points to win easily. Pleasant Hill finished second with 39 points.

The CCD placed six of its seven teams in the first eight places in final points. Only Livermore's fifth place finish (24 points) interrupted the CCD domination.

CLAYTON VALLEY and Mt. Diablo tied for third with 28 1/2 points. College Park was sixth with 19. Pacifica and Albany tied for seventh with 12 points. Antioch, the other CCD entry, finished with three points, deadlocking for 10th place with Amador. Liberty finished ninth with four points. John Swett had 1/2 point while St. Vincent's was shut out. There were 13 teams entered in the annual meet.

Six meet records were broken and two others equalled as the CCD athletes won 10 of 13 events.

Chuck Bray of Pleasant Hill set a new meet record in the shot put with a toss of 56-5 1/4. The old mark, set in 1960, was 55-2.

Loren Speck of College Park took top honors in the discus. His toss of 148-7 1/2 gave him the victory easily.

Pleasant Hill had two other winners—Doug Brown in the 880 and Dick Gentry in the 440—to give the two local schools four first places in the 13 events.

Clan Is Sixth Golf Victim of Undefeated Dons

Acalanes continued its winning ways in golf Monday with a 6-3 win over Piedmont at Chabot golf course.

It was the sixth straight win for the Dons.

However, a disputed match with San Ramon still has not been resolved by league coaches. Both teams are claiming 5-4 victories.

In other matches Monday, San Ramon dumped Las Lomas, 6-3, while Miramonte was handing Del Valle a 7-2 defeat.

San Ramon is now in second place with a 4-2 record. Miramonte is 4-3; Las Lomas, 3-4; Piedmont, 3-4, and Del Valle, 0-7.

JOHN SEXON (38), Gary Childs (39), Mike McNiven (39) and Larry Wolfe (40) were individual winners for the Dons. Sexon was the day's medalist.

Sexon and Art Shierry combined for one best ball win while John Mount and Wolfe scored the other.

Mike Williamson of Las Lomas tied the course record at Diablo Country Club, a five-under-par 30, but couldn't prevent a San Ramon win.

Williamson was eight strokes better than any player on either team—and he's the Knights' number 4 man.

Pete Dozier (38), Tim White (41), Randy Hammond (43) and Steve Gibbs (41) were individual winners for the Wolves.

Ted Roessler (40) was the other Las Lomas individual winner. He combined with Williamson to win the Knights' other point in the best ball competition.

JOHN DE LAVEAGA of Del Valle was the match medalist at Round Hill with a 41 and defeated Miramonte's Steve Baker, 1 up, but the Trojans could not match the Mats' overall strength.

DeLaveaga and Scott Smith combined for Del Valle's other point in the best ball event.

John Spinola, Dave Lackey, Don Parce, Greg Fields and Rick James were the individual winners for Miramonte.

Cal Will Get Former Orindan And Top Miler

Dave Deubner, the nation's top high school miler, will be returning to his former home this fall.

Deubner, a former Orinda resident, turned in a 4:12.8 clocking this spring to set a new Oregon state prep record. The time is less than two seconds off the national record for high school athletes. He has also turned in 4:13.6 and 4:14.6 clockings this year.

The story on Deubner's track feats appeared in The Sun on April 20.

This week it was announced he will attend the University of California.

Deubner is a former Miramonte High School student. He plans to major in geology at Cal. He has a 3.7 high school scholastic average. He is presently a senior at North Eugene High School.

Baroque Music Feature Of St. Mary's Recital

Baroque music, featuring Alice Ehlers, harpsichord, and Eva Heinitz, viola da Gamba, will be presented at Saint Mary's College tonight. The concert, which will begin in Oliver Hall at 8 p.m. is the final event in the spring subscription series of the Contra Costa Committee for Lectures, Art and Music.

The program will feature Sonata in D major, and the Italian Concerto by Bach, as well as selections by Abel, Couperin, and Marais. A harpsichord student of Wanda Landowska in Europe, Mme. Ehlers later had a trio with Paul Hirdemuth and founded the Friends of Old Music, a concert group dedicated to bringing forgotten music of the 17th and 18th centuries back into the repertoire.

For Kitchen Spruce-Up

COLOR IS THE KEY

Coordinated color styling is the key to high fashion in the kitchen this spring. Inexpensive, easy-to-use covering materials can lend a fresh note to your kitchen by providing matching, contrasting or complementary accents. Workable colors and compatible patterns will brighten your cutlery drawers and cupboard shelves and give a new look to worn canisters, planters and splash areas, too.

Smart Kitchens Call For Color Coordination

The high fashion note in kitchens this spring calls for coordinated color styling. This includes all of the small details as well as the overall room area.

When doing over your kitchen this season, however, you won't have to be a "pro" to accomplish a smart sprucing-up job. And you can do it for about $5.

THE FIRST rule is to decide on a fresh color scheme. If your kitchen has basically good colors in flooring and on walls, build your new decorative colors around them. It may be that you'll need little more than some contrasting or blending touches in the drawer and shelf linings, and a few fresh accessories. These are the pretty, practical accessories every homemaker can incorporate.

For example, covering materials will help redecorate essential storage areas. One line of adhesive-backed plastic-coated material—Marvalon coverings—features a series of workable colors and compatible patterns just for these purposes.

The material can be used to recover worn canisters, planters and splash areas behind a sink or range, too. Carefully selected solid colors and textures and patterns permit free rein in choosing a lively, new color scheme.

You might, for instance, want to give your cutlery drawers a spring accent by lining them with a drawer lining in fresh willow green. Then cover china cupboard shelves with the green Starglow pattern that complements the drawer lining. For bright accent, cheery cherry red could be applied to canisters.

APPLYING THESE washable, color-styled materials is simple, whether you're using the shelf or drawer lining or the adhesive covering. To reline a drawer, all you need do is measure its length and width and cut the drawer lining to fit exactly. Then lay the material in place. It won't shrink or ripple.

For shelves or drawers where you store and slide heavier items, the adhesive-backed type may be more suitable. With adhesive coverings, merely cut the material to size, remove the protective backing to expose the adhesive and press into place, smoothing with your hands. It will adhere firmly, but can be removed for replacement without damage to the surface.

An easy kitchen redecorating job such as this is a remarkably simple way to add a high fashion note to any kitchen.

Memo for Mother's Day: Give a Growing Gift

With Mother's Day May 13, it's a good time to visit that local nursery. For few gifts bring such universal pleasure on Mother's Day as those which grow and bloom.

Lest you lack ideas on this, the California Association of Nurserymen suggest the following list of plants that are good for giving. Included are such varied items as rhododendrons and orchids, roses and hydrangeas, which despite their differences, all have one thing in common: The fact that they will be in bloom when the day of days arrives.

WHEN IT COMES to choosing gift plants in bloom, the giver often thinks only of indoor plants—or plants that can be left indoors at least during their period of bloom. Honest-to-goodness gardeners would often rather receive a plant for their garden and gardening mothers are no exception to the rule.

Container grown roses are exceptional gift items. Chances are you can even find the four 1962 All America Rose Selections in full bloom for Mother's Day. These would be the vibrant red grandiflora, John S. Armstrong; the red Christian Dior and the chrome-yellow Kings Ransom, both hybrid tea roses; and Golden Slippers, the golden-orange floribunda which has won such high praise from all who have grown it. Other good ones, both new and old, as you will readily see on your visit to the nursery.

ALSO FOR garden show right now, rhododendrons could hardly time their bloom more perfectly. They are at their peak.

Their cultural requirements dictate that they be planted in high shade or filtered sun, where water is never long lacking.

There are also shrubs which can be enjoyed indoors at first, then moved into the garden for bloom another season. These include azaleas, hydrangeas and even cymbidium orchids.

THE AZALEA has so many faces that a detailed rundown would take more space than we can spare in a story of this sort. Mention should be made, however, of the growing popularity of sun azaleas—those southern indicas, which are so well suited to non-coastal as well as coastal gardens in California. They stand considerably more heat than most azaleas but still share the family liking for moisture and acid soil. The color range of sun azaleas is wide and their delicate beauty belies their tough natures.

Hydrangeas always make the showiest of pot plants and may be grown in containers permanently.

Strictly for indoors, you can give mother some potted African violets, or a lovely foliage plant such as philodendron. Your nurseryman can also help you to select a variety of foliage plants to include in a single planting. Remember that the container is part of such a gift, too, so be sure it's something you'd be proud to own yourself.

If you still can't make up your mind, give a gift certificate. CAN nurserymen have attractive gift cards—gift certificates that say most appropriately "Happy Mother's Day."

Weeds Are Now Invading Garden

The weed invasion is on but the May Sunset has a plan for your counterattack. Weeds do well enough on their own; when you help them along with water and fertilizer, they really flourish.

Hand weeding is easy on shallow-rooted weeds in small patches but nothing can replace the old-fashioned hoe for many spots. Newest chemical control is a solid wax-like bar which you rub on the weeds. Where weeds grow up between rocks or cracks in walks or driveways, you can use a watering can to apply chemical weed killers.

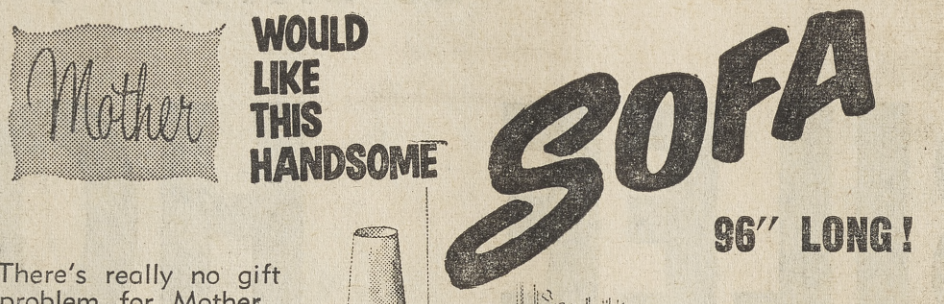

A tank sprayer is more satisfactory because the fine spray conserves the liquid and the long wand makes it possible to reach under low shrubs and trees. Shade reduces weed growth so you should encourage spread of plants like juniper. You can prevent recurrence in flower beds or shrub borders by applying an organic mulch two or three inches deep.

Housewives-- How Far Does Dollar Stretch?

Are American homemakers getting the most out of their food dollar?

Frances Cook, nutritionist in the University of California's Agricultural Extension Service at Berkeley, believes that many homemakers could serve more nutritious and attractive meals for less money.

She points out that the average family spends one-third of its net income for food.

There's really no gift problem for Mother on her day if you select this lovely sofa at Veltri's. Let her choose from 20 beautiful fabrics.

ADMINISTRATOR Raymond F. Farwell inspects the artist's conception of the new John Muir Hospital as he prepared to assume his new duties as consultant last week. Alfred B. Layton, board chairman, looking on, said Farwell would become administrator after the structure is complete.

Dairy Products Are Plentiful This Month

Milk and dairy products are featured items on the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Plentiful Foods List for May. At this time, supplies will be approaching their seasonal peak, and a record production is expected.

Also on May list are eggs, broiler-fryers, vegetable fats and oils, and canned freestone peaches.

All of these will be good buys, and the clever homemaker will want to mix and match them in all sorts of combinations.

Fry broiler-fryers in deep fat for real crispy goodness. Serve shimmering canned peaches topped with cottage cheese for a seroles.

Acalanes Dist. Keeping Pace

"There is a continuing tide to upgrade and change many aspects of secondary education, and the Acalanes Union High School District is more than holding its own in meeting the demands these changes encourage," was the substance of a report made by Leland Russell, Acalanes District assistant superintendent for education.

He reported to high school trustees recently on new developments nationally and locally in secondary education and administration.

Russell indicated that major changes in the education program of secondary schools may be found in curriculum, teaching methods and school organization.

In the field of curriculum Russell indicated that mathematics instruction is undergoing a "transition from the traditional approach experienced by most present day adults when they were in school, to a modern math concept."

"The modern math programs are based on studies by the School Mathematics Study Group of Yale and Stanford universities, by work at the University of Illinois, Maryland University and Ball State College."

BECAUSE THE math programs are changing, Russell reports that many textbooks dealing with new math concepts are appearing in paperback form.

"Durable hardbound texts should be forthcoming once publishers have decided how they will package the new approaches to math instruction," the Acalanes assistant superintendent predicts.

Foreign language education is also undergoing a change with a "strong trend to the 'Audio-Lingual Method' developed with the assistance of research sponsored by the national government. This new method places the emphasis on speaking and hearing a language first, with follow-up work on the more traditional approach of grammatical structure which characterized the teaching format in foreign languages when most of us were in school," Russell explained.

"Science is in for changes too," Russell points out, "with the American Institute of Biological Sciences and National Science Foundation funds to develop a new three-track approach to teaching biological sciences to high school students."

THIS NEW approach utilizes three separate text presentations accompanied by audio-visual films and models which help the student to better understand.

stand and visualize the basic concepts involved in biology. New teaching methods and materials in physics and chemistry are also being developed."

Russell noted that two of the Acalanes District science teachers, Miss Margaret Nicholson of Acalanes High and Bob Campbell of Miramonte are participating authors in a national research study to revise chemistry teaching texts.

The Acalanes District education predicted expanded activity in social studies instruction in the fields of economic education

IN FORECASTING changes in schools the Acalanes assistant superintendent also described a trend towards administration reorganization where the responsibilities of the high school principals or assistants in the areas of curriculum, school operations (plant use, attendance) and counseling and guidance. Russell's explanation of trends in secondary education was part of the high school board's regular monthly session devoted to aspects of the instructional program.

As a part of his presentation to the high school board on new teaching approaches, Russell demonstrated several "teaching machines," devices which employ "programmed presentations" which supplement the classroom work of the teacher.

He reported that the devices range in price from $100 for an electrically operated machine to $5.95 for a manually operated box-like unit.
